Procedure Will Parallel Action Taken in Grain Pit To Stabilize Quotations on Wheat.

BY CECIL OWEN,
United News Staff Correspondent.
WASHINGTON, June 5.—Formation of a cotton stabilization corporation to relieve the existing emergency situation through purchase of millions of bales of the surplus with federal funds was announced today by the federal farm board.

Establishment of such a corporation, similar to that now in existence for wheat, was recommended by the cotton advisory committee, a body comprising seven leading cotton growers and authorities headed by Bradford Knapp, president of the College of Agriculture at Auburn, Ala.

In the opinion of the committee
there is an emergency in the American cotton market which calls for involving the full powers granted the farm board under the agricultural marketing act. Articles of incorporation for the new non-stock corporation to be known as the cotton stabilization corporation were filed today in Wilmington, Del.

It was indicated at the farm board that funds probably aggregating as much as $50,000,000 at low government interest rate will be made available to the stabilization corporation for use in buying surplus cotton. This is expected to materially aid the depression in the cotton exchanges and clear the way for marketing the 1930 crop.

Organization of a cotton stabilization corporation means that two such marketing groups, intended only for emergency use as a means of keeping the price stabilized on a normal level, will be active in connection with the 1930 crops. The grain stabilization corporation, formed last year, already owns approximately 50,000,000 bushels of wheat and is expected to buy more this year unless wheat prices regain higher levels.

The Cotton Stabilization Corporation will be separate from the American Cotton Co-operative Association, the national marketing body formed by growers with the aid of the farm board and largely financed with government funds. Directors of the new corporation will meet here Monday to formulate plans for operating in the cotton market.

Federal farm board officials were uncertain today what percentage of the existing cotton surplus or of the 1930 crop will be bought but it was indicated a line of credit ample to finance whatever purchases are considered necessary will be made available.

Announcement of the new corporation was expected to be received enthusiastically by cotton growers who have faced the prospect of having to sell their new crop at prices which would net them little if any profit.

It was revealed that the meeting of the advisory committee for cotton at which the recommendation was made for the new corporation was held in Washington on May 16 and 17, with all members present.

The members include:
Bradford Knapp, president College of Agriculture, Auburn, Ala.
Harry L. Bailey, Wellington, Sears and Company, Boston, Mass.
U. R. Black, general manager and secretary-treasurer, North Carolina Cotton Growers' Co-operative Association, Raleigh, N. C.
H. Lane Young, cotton grower, executive vice president, Citizens and Southern National Bank, Atlanta, Ga. and chairman, agricultural committee, National Bankers' Association.
A. H. Stone, vice president Staple Cotton Growers' Association, Greenwood, Miss.
Lynn Stokes, president Texas Cotton Co-operative Association; general manager, Texas Farm Bureau, Cincinnati, (co-operative), Dallas, Texas.
S. L. Morley, general manager Oklahoma Cotton Growers' Association, Oklahoma City, Okla.
Mr. Bailey later was chosen by the co-operators to succeed Robert Amory, of Boston, who was unable to serve because of the press of private business. He and Mr. Stokes

Taylor Aid Named In Jury Tampering

ATTORNEYS NEAR BLOWS AT TRIAL
OF W. E. SAUNDERS

W. Schley Howard, in Scathing Speech, Calls for Guilty Verdict on All Four Counts.

Featured by a near physical conflict between Attorney A. E. Wilson, of the defense, and Solicitor-General John A. Boykin, arguments in the case of Councilman William E. Saunders got under way early Thursday night, with Special Prosecutor William Schley Howard demanding his conviction on all four counts in the bribery indictment against him and Wilson pleading for his acquittal on the ground that the state "has failed to make out a case."

The arguments are to be concluded this morning when Attorney Frank Hooper, Jr., speaks for Saunders and Solicitor-General Boykin makes the closing appeal for the state. Following the judge's charge the case will be given to the jury, it being forecast that the charge will be finished about noon.

Declaring that fellow councilmen rushed to Saunders' defense when former Councilman Charles M. Ford stirred up and muddled their waters, Special Prosecutor Howard asserted
"the tadpoles always come to the top when the water is stirred and muddled."

"We put men in the city council and trust them," Howard declared. "The rich man goes down to the city hall and pays his taxes. The poor shell out their nickels that we may have government. But all want that government honest and it has been proved to you here that Atlanta's has not been."

Reviewing the testimony of the state's witnesses, Howard declared that the evidence offered was strong enough to support each and every count in the indictment. Referring to the circumstantial evidence offered to support the charge that Saunders got $300 from the General Motors Truck Corporation, Special Prosecutor Howard declared that "men have sized in the electric chair on evidence not as strong as that offered by the state to support the charges."

Howard opened his argument by defining bribery. He referred to the Payne case, involving an Atlanta policeman, and declared that he assumed the court would charge the jury that a councilman is a state officer in the sense covered by the penal code.

"Bribery is an old common law offense—incorporate in the federal statute and in the laws of most states," Howard said. He spoke of the $100,000 "loan" by Doherty to Payne, and said in that case the court commented on the fact that there were no payments on a note and that no entry of the note was made in the books of the Pan-American Petroleum Company.

"The court held that the $100,000 loan constituted a fraud on the government," Howard said.

The special prosecutor referred to the Texas bribery law as being a broad statute "covering all sorts of rascality." He said that in Texas an official cannot be publicly or privately entertained by parties interested in legislation without coming under the bribery law.

Declaring that Saunders was raised "within gunshot of my home, where I have lived for 55 years," Howard said he was "sorry for him."

Howard went into an explanation of the operation of the city of Atlanta, pointing out that there are 350,000 stockholders in the municipal corporation, who elect trustees to conduct their business.

Government Tribute.

On one side, he said, the prosperous taxpayer comes into the city hall and pays his taxes. And on the other side a poor old bent man and his wife come into the city hall, untie a handkerchief, and extract nickels, dimes and quarters to pay their taxes.
"That is the tribute the government exact from the rich and the poor," he said, pointing out that taxes make possible the modern, progressive and prosperous cities for people to live in.
Howard declared that the city is entitled to a national buyer's discount on a fleet buyer's contract in the purchase of automobile trucks, and declared that in the case included in the Saunders indictment there was $50 added to the price of each truck.
"They make you and I pay it. For what?" he asked. "To give it to Saunders, when he is charged with the solemn and sworn duty of protecting your interests and mine."
Howard said that he pays taxes in
"There would be no percentage for me in trying to hide it."

Effort To Bribe Prospective Juror Laid to C.
E. Martin—Norton To Be Tried June 19.

Coincident with the return Thursday of an indictment charging C.
E. Martin, alias "Jack" Martin, a city license inspector, with attempting to influence a prospective juror in the Walter C. Taylor bribery case, Solicitor-General John A. Boykin set the trial of an embracery case against
F. L. Norton for June 19 in Judge Virlyn B. Moore's division of Fulton superior court.

Martin is the sixth defendant charged with attempting to tamper with the Taylor jury. The indictment returned Thursday charges a felony offense, alleging that on April 19, knowing that Taylor's case had been called for trial and that the case had been adjourned until April 21, Martin offered money to S. P.
Hutchins, who had been served with a summons for the week of April 21, to use his efforts to be accepted as a juror and to vote in favor of Taylor.

Error in Indictment.

Through a clerical error, the name of S. E. Brand was inserted in one place instead of Hutchins' name, and it is expected that the grand jury will be asked to approve a corrected bill today. True bills against five men, including Norton, charged attempts to influence Brand as a juror.

The Martin bill was returned at an unexpected session of the grand jury. The members of the jury were called together suddenly, and went into session with Assistant Solicitor-General Ed A. Stephens.

Although routine business is scheduled for today's session of the grand jury, it is expected that Edward H.
Luman, chairman of the Finance committee of the county commission, and Walter B. Stewart, chairman of the police committee, will confer with the jurors regarding a request for $5,000 which the grand jury is asked for expenses in pushing its probe of jury tampering.

Grand Jury Asks Funds.

A committee from the grand jury, headed by A. Steve Nance, assistant secretary, called on the county commission Wednesday with a request for the appropriation. The committee was told by Commissioner Paul S.
Etheridge that some of the investigating work could be accomplished through a special detail of county policemen in order to save expenses.

On Mr. Etheridge's motion, the chairman of the finance and police committees were requested to confer with the grand jury as to its needs and to report back to the commission today.

Defendants indicted last week by the grand jury on embracery charges were Norton, Wyatt A. Adcock, S. B.
Todd, R. E. Howard and R. H. Shepherd. The latter two are city license inspectors.

The grand jury returned a special presentment last Friday, pledging itself to go into the jury tampering report thoroughly, and calling upon the public for information relating to alleged efforts to tamper with juries.

Simultaneously with the report of Dunning's, a robbery candidacy it was reported in Atlanta that an offer of conciliation had been made by the Rose faction of the party to the group headed by James W. Arnold, of Athens.

The Rose faction, it was said, has submitted a proposal, to the other to settle the differences which arose when the convention held in Atlanta in April split and elected two state central committees.

It is believed that the conciliation of the two factions will be discussed at the meeting in Macon today, and that acceptance of the proposal, with the proviso that Arnold, now chairman of his wing of the party, be made national committeeman, is not impossible.

The Rose committee now has 16 members in its membership and all white officers. The Arnold group counts 30 negroes in its roll, and has one negro officer, Ben Davis, Atlanta publisher.

Dunning Thursday night was non-committal about reports of his candidacy. Reports are that the republicans in the race hope to obtain considerable support from "anti-Smith democrats," in the presidential race of 1928.

DUNNING MAY RUN FOR SENATE SEAT

Republican Collector of Savannah Port Reputed Considering Race.

A two-party contest in the general election this year was in prospect Thursday night when it was learned that Marion O. Dunning, collector of the port of Savannah and widely known republican leader, was seriously considering running in opposition to the democratic nominee for United States senator.

Although no definite announcement was made, it was confirmed here that Dunning's candidacy was being discussed in republican circles and that he was considered the most likely candidate that could be put forward by the party. An announcement following a meeting of the republican central committee headed by Josiah T.
Rose, federal collector of internal revenue, in Macon today was thought highly probable.

Simultaneously with the report of Dunning's, a robbery candidacy it was reported in Atlanta that an offer of conciliation had been made by the

Dunning was formerly chairman of the state board of game and fish and at one time was connected with the administration of the federal prohibi-and Florida.

BISHOP WALKS OUT ON LOBBY PROBERS

BY HERBERT LITTLE,
United News Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—A gray-haired man deliberately picked up his crutch, hat, and brief case today and marched out of the senate lobby committee room while a member was addressing him.

The unprecedented action was that of Bishop Cannon of the Methodist Episcopal church, south. He challenged the committee to subpoena him and left, as the audience gasped and Senator Blaine, republican, Wisconsin, was reading a report upon which he was about to question Cannon.

"Plain contempt of the senate," commented Acting Chairman Thomas J. Walsh, dry democrat from Montana, later.

The question of possible prosecution was postponed for several days until the return of Chairman Caraway. Walsh adjourned the committee until Wednesday, noting that Caraway, who asked Cannon to appear, would return Tuesday from his trip to Arkansas to deliver a commencement address. Later a United News dispatch from Fort Smith, Ark., said Caraway had canceled all engagements.

BILLOXI, Miss., June 5.—(P)—The United Confederate Veterans, in 40th reunion, today rejected unanimously the proposal that they meet in a joint gathering with the veterans of the Army of the North.

They likewise adopted a resolution
by Major John R. Kennedy, of Tuscaloosa, Ala., expressing their sentiments over the offer of the Grand Army of the Republic to march with the remnants of the southern army provided the Confederate flag be omitted from the parade.

If any marching is to be done it is to be done behind the Stars and Bars, declared the veterans of the gray in adopting this resolution.

"When the association in time has passed away, we will place to the care and keeping of our daughters and sons, our beloved Confederate flag, emblematic of all that is good and holy—that has never been polluted by the touch of German hirelings, Italian dagoes, European wharf rats of African slavery, but always raised for the purpose of the freedom of liberty and love of our beautiful southland."

"Such a meeting does not meet with our approval."

Elect General Stephens Head as Close Ap- proaches—Charles Nor- man Succeeds Jones as Sons' Chieftain.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 5.—(P)— Former Governor James M. Cox, of Dayton, democratic presidential nominee in 1920, declared for repeal of the federal prohibition amendment tonight.

Addressing a statewide gathering of democrats at a "victory dinner" in his capacity as chairman, Cox said:
"The people will never change the existing order by bringing back the saloon, nor will private interests ever again be permitted to become selfishly allied on any side of the issue."

"With this understanding, I unhesitatingly favor the repeal of the eighteenth amendment. As between the old saloon order, with its brewery-controlled politics and what not, and the present setup, I would prefer the latter. But we all prefer not being compelled to choose between these two extremes. Both are impossible."

Cox indicated his preference for government manufacture and control of alcoholic liquor in a declaration that there is need of another governmental provision which shall in plain terms prohibit the manufacture or traffic in alcoholic liquors anywhere in America by private or corporate ownership.

Cox's speech was well received by the audience, which included many prominent democrats.

CITY WINS FIGHT FOR RECOGNITION IN FEDERAL COUNT

Director Steuart, in Announcement at Washington, Totals City on New Annexation Basis.

EXPECT 10,000 MORE
FOR FINAL FIGURES

Statement Gives Entire Atlanta Total and Then Figures for Each Borough.

Victory for Atlanta in its fight for census recognition of its full population was officially signified Thursday when Dr. Elizabeth Broach, local census director, under the authority of W. M. Steuart, national census director, announced the preliminary count of the city as 353,722.

The announcement, a typed form prepared in the office of Mr. Steuart in Washington, listed the population of Atlanta at the top, while beneath were carried the populations of the boroughs comprising the city.

Dr. Broach said that their release in this form authorized by Mr. Steuart was confirmation of the victory of Atlanta in its census fight, and that undoubtedly the final figures would be released and published in the same form.

"If Mr. Steuart announces the preliminary figures in this way, he will also announce the final figures in the same manner," she said. Dr.
Broach could not say positively when the final announcement of Atlanta's population would be made, but said that her work was practically completed and indicated that the announcement would be made within a week.

The announcement from Mr. Steuart, which contained a headline reciting the substance of the act of 1920 creating the greater city of Atlanta, follows:

An act of the Georgia state legislature, approved August 17, 1920, incorporated the municipalities of "Atlanta," and included therein the areas known as the boroughs of Atlanta, Avondale Estates, College Park, Decatur, East Point and Hapeville and unincorporated communities Nos. 1 to 15, inclusive. The following 1930 population figures for this municipality, based on the supervisor's preliminary counts and subject to correction, are announced today:

tion to this statement. I think it would be wise for you to arrange for this publicity through the Chamber of Commerce.

"No copies of this statement have been distributed but I shall on Friday, June 6, send copies to the two senators and members of congress from the state and shall give copies to newspaper representatives who may call at the bureau."

The local Chamber of Commerce took a prominent part in the campaign for full recognition of Atlanta's population on the basis of the legislative act of 1920 creating the greater city.

A delegation of prominent businessmen appeared before Mr. Stewart in Washington several months ago to urge announcement in the form of that made Thursday.

Although at the time Mr. Stewart gave assurance that the announcement would be made in the manner requested, later, when Louisville, Houston and other southern cities protested, the question was referred by him to attorneys for advice.

In the event of an adverse ruling the Chamber of Commerce had planned to send another delegation to Washington seeking a further hearing on the question.

The city's population is expected to swell by as much as 10,000 in the final announcement by Dr. Broach, Dr. Broach Thursday would not indicate the approximate figure which would be reached, but it has been authentically estimated that the final announcement will not be below 360,000.

Carroll J. Clark released the complete preliminary figures for the American District. The counties, many of them newcomers in the tabulation, follow:

VICTORY FOR ATLANTA SEEN BY RAMSPECK.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—(Special.)—Action of Director of the Census William M. Stewart today in ordering the census supervisor to list the entire Atlanta population of more than 350,000 in reports on the 1930 enumeration was hailed here today by Representative Robert Ramspeck, of the fifth Georgia district, as a complete victory for the city.

"The order of Director Stewart seems to meet all of the demands made by Atlanta in connection with the city's new charter," said the Georgia congressman. "As I take it, the order means that the true population and growth of Atlanta will be reflected in the official and final census returns. Despite the protests of certain southern cities which have envied the steady growth of Atlanta to the rank of second largest municipality of the south."

1000. More optimistic estimates allow an increase of 10,000.

STATE FIGURES SHOW 141 COUNTIES.

An unofficial tabulation Thursday of census returns from 141 of the 161 counties in the state showed the population in 1930 compared with 1920. The increase is 4,498, the Associated Press announced. The tabulation is based on preliminary returns for the most part. Only DeKalb county and counties in the Gainesville district have made final reports.

Census workers were confident that the official returns would swell the increase. None, however, predicted a big increase for the state generally.

Ninety-five of the 141 counties lost population. All of these are agricultural counties and their losses were cities' gains. With the 1930 and 1920 figures for the entire state almost neck and neck, apprehension was expressed in some quarters that the state would not show a population of 3,000,000.

The Savannah district has made no complete reports, and no county in that district is included in the tabulation. Few counties in the Brunswick area have reported. Aside from these, however, preliminary figures for the state are virtually complete.

While the state has managed barely to add its own thus far in the count, it has turned in good reports on the unemployment situation. Percentage of unemployment even in the big industrial sections of Muscogee, Bibb, Hall, Floyd, Richmond and Fulton has been extremely low. In the agricultural sections of the state, few persons have been reported idle.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 5.—(P)—No greater triumph has been achieved in the past century than the victory which Herbert Hoover has won against panic, Arthur M. Hyde, secretary of agriculture, told delegates today, the unemployment which "threatened to freeze the activities of the nation," has proved to be little more than seasonal unemployment, he added.

Praising President Hoover as a man who sees through and beyond the immediate crisis, Hyde said that the individual, Hyde commented at length on each of the fact-finding commissions appointed by the president, and on the administration of the federal farm board.

In speaking of the industrial situation following the stock market crash, Hyde asserted, "there was relatively little distress."

"Industry," he said, "is co-operating; labor is co-operating; cities and states are co-operating."

He said that the nation was not in a panic and without a boom. If there is scant appreciation of the evils which were averted, there is at least a realization that the nation has escaped the grip upon the hearts of labor and panic, has released the industries of the nation.

Hyde cited the president's activities in calling a conference of leaders of industry after the market crash, and asserted the activities that followed averted a serious unemployment situation.

held several conferences with census officials since opposition was voiced against the new Atlanta charter by Louisville, Houston and a few others, and there was no longer the census bureau could do under the circumstances.

"The Georgia legislature at its last session," he said, "indicated the city of Atlanta in a perfectly legal way, satisfactory to all of the boroughs concerned. The variations that were made in making powers applied to the different boroughs were not at all unusual. Many of the larger cosmopolitan cities of the country, including New York, Boston and Chicago, have done the same thing as a matter of convenience and necessity."

The opinion is now voiced in informed circles that Director Stewart, in referring the question of Atlanta's new charter to Solicitor Morgan, of the department of commerce, for a ruling, never had any mind throwing doubt on the validity of the new Atlanta figures. It is suggested that he was forced to resort to this temporary expedient as a means of modifying momentarily the applied to the protesting cities.

Director Stewart was not available for comment tonight, but so far as known he went ahead with the given thing in waiting for the formal report of Solicitor Morgan, which is yet to be made public, even if it has been prepared.

In any event, the Stewart order has the effect of officially listing the population of Atlanta at above 350,000, with 141 of the state's counties given in separate items making up the total.

WILEY MOORE URGES CHECK ON FINANCES

Business Methods All City Needs, Declares Mayorality Candidate.

An even dozen candidates, including Alderman Ben T. Hulet and Councilman Wiley L. Moore, aspirants for mayor, addressed ninth ward voters at a meeting Thursday night held in the auditorium of the Highland Avenue school. John Echols spoke for former Mayor Key. The meeting was sponsored by friends of Mr. Moore.

Hulet, preceding Moore, declared that if nominated and elected his purpose as mayor would be to get Atlanta back where she belongs and out of the present "deplorable" situation. His first objective, he said, would be to bring about co-operation of all departments.

Tells of Graft Charge. He declared that when he stood alone last November and charged that grafting was going on at the city hall, he was almost crucified, he said.

"If you elect me mayor," he said, "and I find anyone doing wrong I'll call his hand immediately and demand his resignation. If I don't get it, I'll set machinery in motion to put him out."

Chiding Moore for saying that he had rather have the honor of being president of his own company than mayor brought from his opponent the statement that his remark had been misinterpreted.

"If you elect me mayor," Moore said when his turn came to speak, "I plan to go to the city hall January 1 and institute a business administration. The present system is as old as the city of Atlanta. No concern could operate as Atlanta operates and not go bankrupt in six months."

Wants Budget System. "It is a wonder to me," he said, "that matters are not worse than they are. I blame no department or person, but the system. I have attempted to get a new system, but some of the people in the city hall who are going to vote against me are opposed to me because I am advocating a budget system. Two years ago when we tried to install a centralized system some of the city employees objected, fearing loss of their jobs. We might have required more employees and we would have had a check on finances. As it is, 30 or 40 departments are now keeping separate sets of books."

"The trouble with Atlanta, considering the period of depression we have been through," Moore added, "is that it needs business methods introduced. There's nothing else to be alarmed about."

Echols declared "Wiley Moore is a fine fellow, but politics gets crossed up at times. Any of the four candidates would make a good mayor, but I'm just for Jim Key. Jim Key has one platform—honesty. He knows how to be mayor because he has been a mayor. Moore boasts that he is chairman of the finance committee of

Other candidates spoke. Homer C. Foster, candidate for councilman in the 9th; W. Paul Carpenter, candidate for the full term in council from the 9th; J. T. Bowden, candidate for alderman from the 5th; J. Allen Couch, candidate for re-nomination as alderman from the 9th; Robert F. Pennington, candidate for re-election as alderman from the 1st ward; J. L. Coss, Homer C. Denton and Frank C. Fling, candidates for recorder, second division, police court, and Alderman G. Everett Millican.

There will be another Moore meeting beginning at 8 o'clock tonight at the English Avenue school in the fifth ward. All candidates, especially those for mayor, are invited to attend.

Key Hints Heeders. Opening his address with an exhortation of hecklers, Mr. Key declared he did not believe J. K. Ezell, representing Moore, brought them to the meeting.

"Mr. Moore, one of my opponents charged me with being vicious," Key said. "When did I become vicious? He said last night that I was a good, sweet old man trying to imply that I am nearly dead. My general health is better than it has been in years. It is so good that on January 1 that I am going to remove from office every grafting one of those at the city hall."

He then injected the advertising angle, charging a fund of $15,000 for advertising purposes.

"I am going to find out the names of those who are handling the money," Mr. Key said. "The people of Atlanta are not going to stand for that kind of business. I hope that they will spend a lot of that slush fund in advertising and not in an effort to de-bauch the electorate."

"Mr. Moore asked me to find the $25,000 slush fund. He knows that is impossible."

FITZGERALD, Ga., June 5.—(AP) Twelve of a fleet of 16 six-ton trucks playing between this city and New York with produce were scheduled to be passing through North Carolina and Virginia Thursday on their eastern trip.

The trucks were loaded at Ambrose, Ga., Wednesday with 800 crates of cucumbers and 400 crates of tomatoes. They were routed so as to maintain a 36-hour schedule between here and New York city.

Six other trucks will leave south Georgia points later in the week for eastern markets.

KEEN RACE SEEN IN HENRY COUNTY

McDONOUGH, Ga., June 5.—Indications point to a keen political fight in Henry county with three prominent men offering for the senate.

David Arnold, mayor of Hampton, and former representative; Colonel E. L. Reagan, a leading attorney here, also a former representative, and A. C. Norman, who represented the county four years, all have paid their entrance fees and are candidates for the senate.

W. B. J. Ingram, who has been chairman of the county commissioners for the past eight years, B. S. Elliott, editor of the Henry County Weekly and S. C. McWilliams, of Stockbridge, former senator, have qualified for representative. All are prominent in county affairs.

Whitworth Unopposed.

ELBERTON, Ga., June 5.—When the time closed for entries into the race for the legislature, both of the incumbents, T. J. Hewell and H. A. Adams had qualified for re-election.

Opposing them are Peyton S. Hawson, son of Mayor A. S. Hawson, Dr. A. S. J. Stovall and J. T. Sisk. It is Madison county's time for the next senator, and G. P. Whitworth is running without opposition. Elbert is entitled to two representatives.

Thomason Withdraws.

SYLVESTER, Ga., June 5.—O. M. Thomason, who had announced for representative to succeed himself, has withdrawn from the race on account of ill health. This leaves J. Warren Davis, of Isabella, and T. B. Jenkins, of Sumter, contesting for the office.

W. J. Crowe is running for representative to succeed himself and is unopposed.

Announces for Legislature.

ABBEVILLE, Ga., June 4.—W. E. Reeves, coroner of Wilcox county, has announced for representative to succeed himself. He will be opposed by W. K. Holt, of Rochelle, and L. H. Glenn, of Abbeville. Mr. Holt has naval interests in the Wilcox county and the county and Mr. Glenn has extensive naval stores interests in South Carolina.

State Deaths And Funerals

TAYLOR GANN. COLUMBUS, Ga., June 5.—Z. Taylor Gann, well-known Columbus citizen, died at his home Thursday after a long illness. He was born in Georgia in 1872, in 1896 he moved to Georgia in 1892. In 1891 he came to Columbus and entered the drug business, which he continued until his death.

At the time of his death Mrs. S. J. Gann, his wife, was 62 years of age. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. S. J. Gann, Columbus, and three brothers, T. J. Gann, Columbus, and two others, Dr. W. F. Gann, Columbus.

FUNERAL OF MRS. HARVARD. DUBLIN, Ga., June 5.—Funeral services for Mrs. Jane Lee Martin, 90, one of the oldest residents of Spalding county, who died at her home in Dublin, Wednesday, June 4, will be held at the County Line Christian church, Tuesday, June 5, at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Martin was the widow of the late W. F. Harvard, and was the oldest citizen of Dublin. She was a member of the First Baptist church of Dublin.

She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. A. B. Brinson and Mrs. Trammell Keen, of Dublin; Mrs. E. E. Vaughn, of R. E. Martin, of Newman, and W. E. Martin, of Experiment, Ga.; and one son, Hal Harvard, of San Jose, Cal.

FUNERAL OF MRS. MARTIN. GRIFIN, Ga., June 5.—Funeral services for Mrs. Jane Lee Martin, 90, one of the oldest residents of Spalding county, who died at her home in Dublin, Wednesday, June 4, will be held at the County Line Christian church, Tuesday, June 5, at 2 o'clock.

Thinking Son in Danger. Mother Dies of Frigate

WRENS, Ga., June 5.—(AP) Mrs. James Jenkins, 25, died apparently from fright at her home near here Wednesday, believing her son's life to be endangered by fire.

The boy, 7 years old, was trying to make a fire in the stove and in some way ignited a box of matches he was holding. He screamed and his mother ran into the kitchen, seeing flames mounting from the stove, she dropped to the floor.

The child was unharmed and the fire easily extinguished.

Generals Summerall and McCoy and Other Notables Will Take Part in Dedication of Kettle Creek Monument

Mrs. Boyce Ficklen, Jr., chairman of the general committee of Washington, Ga., patriotic and civic organization in charge of dedication ceremonies.

General Charles P. Summerall, chief of staff of the United States army, who will be the principal speaker at the ceremonies.

General Frank R. McCoy, commander of fourth corps area, who is among those who will make an address at the dedication exercises.

ATLANTA-TALLAHASSEE ROAD WORK BEGUN

THOMASVILLE, Ga., June 5.—The grading and paving of seven miles of the Atlanta to Tallahassee highway between Thomasville and the Grady county line, started Wednesday.

The contract was awarded to the Wolf Construction Company, of St. Augustine, and they have begun operations at the county dividing line, and will proceed to work toward Thomasville.

The completion of the highway, connecting the capitals of the states of Georgia and Florida, was urged by federal authorities.

There is an unimproved link of 17 miles between Thomasville and the Florida line, and it is understood that the Georgia highway board is contemplating a contract for the other ten miles the latter part of this month.

The Florida portion of the road has been paved and open to traffic for some time.

When the Georgia portion is paved motorists from Atlanta and intermediate points can not only ride paving to Tallahassee, but on down the Gulf of Mexico coast to Carrabelle and Appalachicola.

TWO TRAINMEN HURT AS ENGINE DERAILS

DALLAS, Ga., June 5.—J. P. Kennedy, engineer, and A. Nabors, fireman, both of Atlanta, were injured near here Thursday afternoon when the Atlanta-Birmingham train of the Seaboard railway ran into an open switch and wrecked.

The locomotive and the express and baggage cars were derailed.

Engineer Kennedy was crushed when pinned beneath the engine and rushed to an Atlanta hospital in an ambulance. Nabors was bruised badly and suffered several cuts about the face but his condition is not considered serious.

KENNEDY IN SERIOUS CONDITION.

In danger of pneumonia he was forced to breathe while pinned under his overturned locomotive near Dallas, Ga. Thursday morning, Engineer J. P. Kennedy was in a serious condition Thursday night at a local hospital.

Kennedy's engine jumped the track as the result of an open switch that had been deliberately broken and thrown by some one. An investigation was under way to discover the culprit. The engine struck the switch at about 30 miles an hour and the locomotive, express and baggage cars overturned. Fireman A. Nabors, of Atlanta, was slightly injured, but none of the passengers was hurt.

Kennedy, whose home is in Atlanta, suffered severe chest injuries and many minor bruises in addition to his exposure to pneumonia. The physician treating him here said that the crisis would come tomorrow and if pneumonia did not develop his condition would not be dangerous.

ALBANY RUSHES WORK ON NEW U. S. BUILDING

ALBANY, Ga., June 5.—Work on the federal government's new $10,000 office building, for housing government agricultural and horticultural experts located here, is progressing rapidly. The new building, when completed, will have 13 offices.

Experts investigating pests and diseases of pecans and other crops are working on the building. It is expected to be about the first of July. It will be located in the southeast corner of the fair grounds property owned by the city.

It is being constructed by the city of Albany, under contract with the department of agriculture, to be leased for a long term of years.

Mrs. Vanlandingham, of Charlotte, N. C., vice president-general of the National Society Daughters of American Revolution, who will speak at the dedication.

General Charles P. Summerall, chief of staff of the United States army, who will be the principal speaker at the ceremonies.

United States band from Fort McPherson.

"Hornets' Nest of Revolution."

The monument to the fruit of 20 years' labor by the Kettle Creek chapter of the D. A. R. This small chapter of patriotic women started a movement in 1910 to have the monument erected on the battlefield. A congressional appropriation eventually was voted.

The unique setting here and the importance of the battle of Kettle Creek as a turning point in the tide of victory for the struggling colonists combine to make the celebration an event of wide human appeal and national importance. This community which bore the sobriquet of "The Hornets' Nest of the Revolution" and played a stirring part in the birth of the greatest nation on earth, was also the scene of the last cabinet meeting of the Southern Confederacy four generations later.

Breakfast at Kettle Creek.

In such a setting will the ceremonies of June 6 be staged by the Kettle Creek Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, through whose efforts the monument to the battle of Kettle Creek is being erected.

Many Notables Will Speak.

General Charles P. Summerall, chief of staff of the United States army, will be the principal speaker of the day. He comes as a high ranking official of the government to participate in the dedication of the monument which was erected with funds appropriated by congress. Among other distinguished guests who will have a part in the colorful program are Mrs. Vanlandingham, of Charlotte, N. C., vice president-general of the National Society of Daughters of American Revolution; General Frank R. McCoy, of Atlanta, commanding fourth corps area; Adjutant-General Homer C. Parker, of Atlanta, head of the Georgia national guard; George H. Farwell, secretary of state; Mrs. Bun Wylie, of Atlanta, state regent D. A. R., and representatives of the following patriotic and civic organizations: Sons of the American Revolution, United Daughters of the Confederacy, Federation of Women's Clubs, American Legion, American Legion Auxiliary, Kiwanis Club and Parent-Teacher Association.

Mayor W. L. Johnson has issued a proclamation making Friday a local holiday so that the citizens of Washington-Wilkes may turn out as one man for the honors of the day. The mayor will officially welcome the host of visitors to be here for the dedication ceremonies at War Hill, battle field and Mrs. Boyce Ficklen, Jr., immediate past president of the American Legion Auxiliary, will preside.

An interesting feature of the dedication ceremonies will be the descendants of Elijah Clarke and Andrew Pickens present in the persons of Julian and Clarke Carter, of Hartsville, S. C., and little Miss Phinix, of Augusta, to lay wreaths at the foot of the monument in honor to their illustrious forebears. John Drayton, third member of the triumvirate of colonels who won renown at the battle of Kettle Creek, was never married.

Music for the occasion will be furnished by the Twenty-second Infantry.

SHERIFF RIDLEY DIES OF HEART TROUBLE

HAWKINSVILLE, Ga., June 5.—(AP)—T. K. Ridley, 50, sheriff of Pulaski county, dropped dead here this morning while visiting in the office of Attorney S. E. Coates.

Ridley was in the midst of a conversation with the attorney when he suddenly clutched at his breast and slumped to the floor unconscious. He was dead before medical assistance could be summoned and death was ascribed to a heart attack.

Mr. Ridley served as sheriff for 11 years and during his tenure of office he established the reputation of being one of the most fearless of officers in this section of the state.

Besides his wife, he is survived by one son, T. K. Ridley, Jr., his father, and several brothers, all of whom are residents of this county.

Mr. Ridley also was one of the most extensive farmers in this county and he also owned a hardware establishment here.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

MILITIA DISTRICT 1359 SHOWS LARGE LOSS

SAVANNAH, Ga., June 5.—(AP)—Militia District 1359, Liberty county, including the town of Midway with a population of 42, had a population of 1,169 on Jan. 1, 1930, according to figures announced here Thursday by Frank R. Durbin, census supervisor for the twelfth census district. There were 134 farms enumerated.

940 ARE UNEMPLOYED IN SEVENTH DISTRICT

BARNESVILLE, Ga., June 5.—A report on unemployment for the seventh Georgia census district, as given out by W. C. Jackson, supervisor, is as follows: Butts, 12; Clayton, 52; Crawford, 19; Fayette, 12; Henry, 100; Lamar, 49; Monroe, 28; Pike, 27; Spalding, 279; Upson, 250. Total, 940. "Unemployed" as used here refers only to those who are able to work and are seeking employment.

These figures are preliminary and are subject to correction, and will be supplemented later by data given out by Washington for other classes of persons who were not at work at the time of the census, such as those who had a job but were sick or temporarily laid off.

The large number of unemployed in Spalding and Upson counties is caused by the shut-down of the Griffin Manufacturing Company.

The mill will soon resume operation under the management of the Hightowers, of Thomasville.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT ABOLISHED IN WORTH

SYLVESTER, Ga., June 5.—At the regular meeting of the board of roads and revenues of Worth county, it was voted to discontinue health work, due to depressed financial conditions of the county at this time. This action abolishes the position of county health officer, held by Dr. W. C. Tipton, and that of county nurse, held by Mrs. W. L. Story, both of whom have given excellent service since the organization of the health department about two years ago.

The discontinuance will become effective on July 1.

ANGEL PEREZ, CUBAN CONSUL, ARRIVES HERE

New Official Will Pay Respects to Mayor and Governor Today.

Angel Perez, new Cuban consul to Atlanta, has arrived here to reopen the consulate which has been closed for more than a year. Mr. Perez's offices will be at 422 Connally building.

The new consul is a former newspaperman and retains his membership with newspaper clubs in Havana. He has served his government as consul in Newport News, Cincinnati, New York and Chicago and in several South American cities. He is regarded as one of the island's most promising diplomats and his wife, native of Chicago, will be a charming addition to Atlanta society.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Perez expressed themselves as highly pleased with their assignment to Atlanta, saying that they were greatly impressed with the city's hospitality. The consul will pay his respects to Mayor Ragdale and Governor Hardman today.

Other numbers on the program will be Betty Cargill, dancer; Mary Agnes Crawford, dancer, and Raymond Woodbury and R. E. Lee, musicians. Miss Cargill is scheduled to do a Hawaiian dance.

Gress Will Argue Lumber Case Today

T. R. Gress, assistant attorney general, is in Macon today to argue the state's case in an attack against the state tax on lumber companies in the superior court. The case, the Case-Fowler Lumber Company against W. B. Harrison, comptroller general, was heard a month ago, but argument was reserved until a transcript of the evidence had been completed.

The tax attacked is on a sliding scale, providing for $25 to $100 annual tax, according to the population of the town in which the lumber company is located.

372 TECH STUDENTS TO GRADUATE MONDAY

Baccalaureate Address Will Be Delivered at First Baptist Sunday.

Georgia Tech's last faculty meeting of the year late Thursday afternoon recommended to the board of trustees the granting of 372 degrees to members of the senior class. This is 50 more than has ever been recommended to the trustees in any previous graduating class.

Students representing 24 states and 10 foreign countries are among those recommended for graduation Monday morning when Dr. John J. Tigert, president of the University of Florida, makes the commencement address. The baccalaureate address will be delivered Sunday at the First Baptist church by Dr. Ellis Fuller.

Of the largest class in the history of the school 137 are registered from Atlanta and vicinity, the largest number of these coming from the Evening School of Commerce. There are 40 graduates in this department of the school, all from Atlanta.

The graduates as recommended by the faculty Thursday afternoon are represented in the following departments: Graduate school, 9; mechanical engineering, 22; electrical engineering, 33; civil engineering, 37; textile engineering, 30; engineering chemistry, 8; architecture, 32; co-operative engineers, 73; commerce, 54; general science, 14; ceramic engineering, 8; evening school commerce, 40.

Since the founding of Georgia Tech in 1885 the school has issued diplomas to 3,019 graduates and given certificates to 408. The enrollment for 1935 was 130. Ten years later it had grown to 332. Ten years later the enrollment was 665. At the close of the World War the total number of students was 1,853, and now the total enrollment is about 3,500.

With the completion of the new aeronautical building and institution of that course, and with the steady growth of all other departments, the enrollment for next year probably will reach the 4,000 registration, according to administration officials of Georgia Tech.

Summerall To Arrive In Atlanta Saturday

General Charles P. Summerall, chief of staff of the army, is to be in Washington, Ga., today, and in Atlanta Saturday, according to a radiogram received at Headquarters Fourth Corps Area, Fort McPherson, Thursday.

The general will visit Washington to take part in the dedication of the Kettle Creek battle monument, about 10 miles from that city. He will be joined by Major General Frank R. McCoy and members of the latter's staff. Upon conclusion of the program at Washington, General Summerall will motor to Atlanta with General McCoy and visit headquarters of the Fourth Corps Area Saturday morning. He leaves the same day at 12:10 P. M. to return to Washington, D. C.

MRS. HOOVER LEAVES FOR VIRGINIA HILLS

Recurring Accident Forces First Lady To Seek Diversion.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—(AP)—Accompanied only by her secretary, Mrs. Hoover left behind the exacting demands of White House routine today for the solitude of the Virginia mountains, where she can convalesce from her wrenched back undisturbed by social activities.

For the first time since she was injured two months ago, Mrs. Hoover this week attempted to resume her normal social activities. With the president, she was hostess at a state dinner on Tuesday and Wednesday attended a luncheon at the home of Mrs. James J. Davis, wife of the secretary of labor.

These occasions left her somewhat exhausted, Captain Joel T. Boone, the White House physician, recommended that she go to the presidential camp on the headwaters of the Rapidan river, where she would not be confronted by constant demands upon her time and energies.

Dr. Boone said no anxiety was occasioned by the setback in Mrs. Hoover's recovery but that the wrenched muscles of her back needed complete rest.

Only a small staff of servants, her secretary, and a guard of secret service men will be with the first lady during her indefinite stay at the isolated camp.

Over the week-ends, President Hoover will motor to the camp with parties of guests which for the first time since the first lady was injured will include women.

Sarasota Fishermen Scorn Melbourne

SARASOTA, Fla., June 5.—(AP)—If Melbourne anglers want to get into a tarpon fishery, they will have to wait until they can raise the "ante" in their challenge offer or come to Sarasota, club officials here said today.

The local anglers said they were too busy directing the international tarpon tournament now under way here to "bother with bush league contests."

Secretary Thomas said: "Tell those Melbourne boys to come on over and get into the international tournament and win some real prizes. Why fool around with $25 and $50 awards when the winning angler over here will reap $500 in cash, not to mention a truck load of fishing tackle and so forth. Our tournament lasts until July 15 and we'll take on the Melbourne boys as added entrants any time they want to shoot at our $5,000 in cash and more than $25,000 worth of cups, tackle and bait."

The Melbourne club suggested in a challenge that in order to prove whether the east or west coast of Florida furnishes the best tarpon and tarpon fishermen it might be a good idea for each club to put up $25 for a $50 cup and an additional $25 each to be awarded the winning angler.

Unknown Concerto By Bach Is Found

EISENACH, Germany, June 5.—(AP)—A hitherto unknown composition by Johann Sebastian Bach, a piano concerto with string orchestra in C minor has been discovered in a private collection here.

To those who suffer from nervousness and pain, such as headache, neuralgia, periodic pains and pains in the back and sides, Capudine offers quick and delightful relief. Being light, it acts almost instantly—much quicker than tablets and powders. Capudine relieves pain by soothing the nerves—not by deadening them. Contains no opiates and does not upset the stomach, therefore, is the ideal remedy. For over 30 years millions have found grateful relief by using Capudine. You, too, will find it a joy and comfort when your nerves are unstrung or when you suffer from pain. At drug stores in 30c and 60c sizes.—(adv.)

SECKATARY HAWKINS

OUR NEW CLUB MEMBER, HERMAN THE FIDDLER, HAD DENIED KNOWING THE BOY IN THE BOAT THAT FLEW THE FLAG OF THE BLACK LION. BUT WE KNOW HE WAS NOT TELLING THE TRUTH. SO TODAY WHEN I HAPPENED TO MEET HERMAN

HE HAD VELKY WITH HIM, AND I INVITED THEM TO TAKE A RIDE IN MY CANOE. I WANTED A CHANCE TO TALK WITH THEM, SO I STEERED FOR THE FLAT BY THE BIG BOULDER, AND THERE WE LANDED AND BUILT A FIRE.

BUT BEFORE WE HAD TIME TO DO ANYTHING, I SAW HERMAN GUTCH VELKY'S ARM AND POINT TOWARD THE UPPER BEND OF THE RIVER. AND I TURNED, TOO, AND SAW COMING DOWN STREAM THE BOAT WITH THE BLACK LION FLAG AND BOTH

WELL, AT LEAST I KNOW I'LL SEE HERMAN AGAIN. HE'LL COME BACK FOR THIS FIDDLE. I'LL TAKE IT TO THE CLUBHOUSE.

U. S. WAR MOTHER SUFFERS ACCIDENT

RHEIMS, France, June 5.—(AP)—The American Gold Star mother and her son who were visiting France seem to resist every strain of their pathetic pilgrimage, even accidents.

Mrs. D. J. Smith, of Billings, Mont., fell down a flight of stairs here today but was resting quietly tonight. She was supposed to have two broken ribs, but the physicians in charge deferred an X-ray examination and are not yet certain if that is the case.

A motor car bearing a group of mothers had an accident just outside Rheims today, but the occupants escaped unscathed.

All in all, considering the advanced age of most of those who have come to visit the graves of their soldier sons, it is felt that the tours of the various contingents have been remarkably free of any trouble.

Meanwhile the fifth group of American women arrived in Paris this afternoon with not even a mild case of illness. The tour of the party was Mrs. J. R. Umstead, of Los Angeles, 81 years old. She said that she never felt better and had not missed a single meal while on the water.

The 130 pilgrims in this group will start their tour of the battlefield cemetery tomorrow.

Carolina Official of S. A. R. Found Dead

ASBURY PARK, N. J., June 5.—(AP)—Park Matthews, of Raleigh, N. C., newly elected vice president general of the Sons of the American Revolution, was found dead in bed today at Berkeley-Carter hotel. He was 55 years old.

The body was found by Dr. D. T. Smithwick of Louisville, N. C., with whom Mr. Matthews roomed at the Berkeley-Carter hotel. Physicians said Mr. Matthews had been dead since midnight after suffering a heart attack.

Yesterday he was elected to his new office at the convention of the Sons of the American Revolution. He was assistant director of the department of conservation and development of the state of North Carolina, and former president of his state's S. A. R. chapter.

Mr. Matthews is survived by his widow and three children.

Man Who Altered New Chemical Statue Poem Looms as Rival May Go Free To Steam Heat

BALTIMORE, June 5.—(AP)—Lenny, the city park board for Edmond Fontaine, who edited with a chisel the Edgar Allan Poe verse on the Poe memorial in Wyman park.

Fontaine, tree surgeon and poetry lover, chiseled the "I" from the word "mortal," correcting a phrase to read: "Dreaming dreams no mortal ever dared to dream before."

Fontaine is to be arraigned tomorrow before a magistrate on a charge of defacing public property. The park board agrees with the second Edgar Allan Poe that "the public interest will not be served by a dismissal of the case."

The poet's namesake is a former president of the Baltimore Bar Association. Published copies of the poet's verse revealed that the "B" had no business on the monument.

Georgia Waterways To Get Huge Sum

WASHINGTON, June 5.—(AP)—With the largest sum in history in its hands for river and harbor work, the war department today announced the assignment of $80,000,000 for projects in all parts of the country.

A total of $67,000,000 is available for the work, including $55,000,000 under the war department appropriation act plus a deficiency appropriation of $12,000,000.

Of the amount allotted today nearly $10,000,000 will be available for projects on the Mississippi river and its tributaries upon which, with the exception of the Ohio river, the inland waterways corporation is able to operate. None of the present appropriation is available for Mississippi flood control work, a separate sum of $30,000,000 being set aside for that purpose.

The entire sum allotted, with the exception of about $500,000 for departmental and administrative services, will be used for maintenance and carrying out authorized projects. The allotment carries an item of $700,000 for Savannah harbor; $60,000 for Altamaha, Ogeechee and Ocmulgee rivers; $166,000 for Brunswick harbor and $10,000 for general surveys at Savannah.

Mayor of Baltimore Will Oppose Ritchie

BALTIMORE, June 5.—(AP)—Governor Albert C. Ritchie faced a fight today for a fourth term with the announcement of Mayor William F. Broening, of Baltimore, that he would seek the republican nomination. Governor Ritchie, a democrat, is an avowed wet and Mayor Broening stated only that he would run on the state party platform adopted.

HAMBURG, Germany, June 5.—(AP)—Crown Prince Friedrich Wilhelm Victor August Ernst Von Hohenzollern, prince of Prussia, celebrated a quarter century ago married the youthful Cecilie, Duchess of Mecklenburg, amid pomp and pageantry in pre-war times. Today was making plans to observe his silver wedding anniversary in the quiet of his suite at a Hamburg hotel.

The celebration necessarily will be a day late, for the prince is returning from Argentina with her son Friedrich, will not arrive until Saturday. The former crown prince is scheduled to arrive in Hamburg with his sons, Wilhelm and Hubertus, in time to meet the ship. The family then will go to the Hotel Four Seasons, a hostelry familiar to many American tourists—for a quiet reunion and observance of the jubilee among themselves.

The family will go on Sunday to Doorn, Holland, where the former Kaiser Wilhelm and Hermine are in exile. The former crown prince naturally will find tomorrow a day of melancholy memories. Twenty-five years ago the streets of Berlin were strewn with roses and the whole nation was in festive mood honoring the prospective ruler and his bride, the beautiful 18-year-old Cecilie, Duchess of Mecklenburg. Describing the event, the crown prince later wrote: "On that glorious June day she entered as upon roses into her new life in Berlin, rapturously acclaimed by many thousands, borne aloft by the love and sympathy of a whole people—I was deeply moved."

Today the marble palace at Potsdam, in which the crown prince was born, is a museum visited yearly by thousands of tourists. The Bellevue palace, in the Tiergarten, where the young bride was married, is a modern art exhibit. The former Unter den Linden palace of the crown prince is a public picture gallery, and the square fronting the cathedral in which the young royal couple were married has become the scene of frequent communist gatherings.

Former Prince Will Observe Silver Wedding

NEW YORK, June 5.—(UN)—Albert Abendroth, of Rhineland, Wis., met a genial companion at his hotel here two weeks ago. Abendroth told about things in the maple floor business, in which he is prominent, and explained that he was a racing man and found it paid better than work.

Wednesday afternoon detectives broke in Abendroth's hotel room, where he was just leaving Murray $32,500 in cash to establish confidence in his financial stability. Murray was arrested and held on a charge of attempted grand larceny of $100,000 winnings on a race.

Murray told Abendroth when they met that he was from Kansas City, and that he himself thought New York was all right for a visit, but they did have races here, he added laughingly.

One thing led to another, and it was agreed eventually that Abendroth might go to the races with Murray and watch him win. With some hesitation, Murray agreed to permit Abendroth to have a flutter on a race. Murray, police said, went to a bookmaker, made a bet for Abendroth, and, returning, told the

CHINESE REBELS WIN IN MANY PROVINCES

SHANGHAI, June 5.—(AP)—The nationalist government armies retreated today in Hunan and in Shantung provinces before victorious rebel onslaughts on widely separated battlefields. On two other fronts—central Honan, north of Hankow, and along the Hanchow Tungshan railway in northern Honan—the nationalists were in a precarious condition after a month of fighting, with 400,000 men engaged on the opposing sides.

Because of civil war and banditry, conditions have become so unsettled that foreign consuls in Hankow were reported today to have decided to urge foreigners to leave the provinces of Hupeh, Hunan and Kiangsi.

Moving northward through Hunan province, 80,000 Kwangsi province rebels, joined by a horde of bandits, swarmed into Changsha, chasing northward the 10,000 nationalists who made feeble resistance. The fleeing nationalists are endeavoring to return to their armies north of Hankow to resume the defense against the northern rebels' attacking forces in Honan province.

American and other foreigners of Changsha, on the approach of the rebel army, took refuge on an island in the Siang river, off the city. Here they were under protection of American and British river gunboats, commanded respectively by Rear Admiral Thomas T. Craven and Admiral MacLean.

Three provinces away in the northeast, the northern alliance rebels forced their way across the Yellow river and drove the nationalists back toward Tsinan. The city's fall was believed to be but a matter of time. Japanese residents fled in trains to Tsinan.

Cottonseed Probers Study Price Reports

WASHINGTON, June 5.—(AP)—Efforts of individuals and organizations to establish cotton seed price reporting systems were discussed before the federal trade commission today in its investigation of alleged cotton seed price fixing.

Placed in the record, while Christie Benet, of Columbia, S. C., was on the stand, were several letters written by S. M. Harmon, secretary of the Mississippi division of the National Cottonseed Products Association. Benet is general counsel of the national association.

In the letters and a circular Harmon suggested that members of the Mississippi division telegraph cotton seed and products price changes to their secretary, who in turn was to transmit the information to all subscribers to the service. Benet said he did not approve this plan. He said he thought the price reporting system should be handled by the bureau of markets, or the department of agriculture.

He was questioned about trade practice rules adopted at a conference at Memphis in 1928, and said his office made no "direct effort" to enforce the code. He also said the trade commission's estimate that 50 per cent of the industry was represented at Memphis was "high."

MACHADO MOVES TO CUT CUBA NATIONAL BUDGET

HAVANA, Cuba, June 5.—(AP)—President Gerardo Machado, as the nation's chief executive, today took the initiative in reducing Cuba's national budget.

Returned, they said, with 1,000 shares of Cities Service stock, and sold it in Wall Street for $32,500. Abendroth went back to his hotel and met Murray. Police got a tip at this point, and detectives hurried to the hotel. As they entered Abendroth's room he was just passing over his $32,500, they said, and found that his roll consisted of $21 in Mexican money. Abendroth protested, but the detectives were adamant and held Murray. Not only that, they said, but they would like to interview the bookmaker.

Abendroth did not have his half of the $50,000, but went back to Rhineland for it, according to police. # GEORGIA TECH DANCES INAUGURATED LAST EVENING

Miss Crawford, Miss Gandler Lead Tech Junior Prom

The initial dance of the 1930 Georgia Tech commencement took place last evening at the Tech gymnasium, assembling several hundred members of the college set of Atlanta society, augmented by friends and parents who acted as chaperons. The gymnasium was elaborately decorated by George Harrold, architectural student, and was designed to represent a modern night club. The ceiling was of sky blue, with lighting effect, arranged so as to portray floating clouds. The four sides of the room were attractively decorated with novel designs of green, white and silver, alternating in vertical columns, with brilliant red capitals and bases. The orchestra pit, situated in the center of the floor, was set in an enormous silver shell in "V" shape, this being the central feature of the hall. Jimmy Joy and his orchestra from New York city are furnishing the music for the commencement dances.

During the intermission members of the Junior class and their dates formed a long line for the grand march, which was led by Earl Dunlap, president of the class, with Miss Josephine Crawford and Tom Jones, vice president, with Miss Louisa Candler. Miss Crawford was wearing a pink satin, made on tight-fitting lines with flowing skirt. She wore a corsage of roses and valley lilies. Miss Candler wore a gown of flesh mouseline de soie, with full skirt touching the floor. Her corsage was of pink roses and lilies of the valley. The group of young girls dancing in the cotillon figure formed an effective picture, wearing evening gowns of various shades, presenting a most interesting feature as the group moved to the rhythm of the music, while colored spotlights were trained upon them.

From Chaperons.

The chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Porter, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. McCrea, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Raine, Mrs. Edward Van Winkle, Mrs. W. C. Jamison, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Rhodes, Mr. and Mrs. John I. ## Miss Mathews and Mr. Holden Wed at Druid Hills M. E. Church

The marriage of Miss Margaret Mathews, daughter of Mrs. Zaida Walter Mathews and the late Mr. Walter Mathews, and Frederick Addison Holden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Francis Holden, of Washington, D. C., was brilliantly solemnized at the Druid Hills Methodist church last evening at 8:30 o'clock. The impressive ceremony was performed by Dr. R. L. Russell, pastor of the church, a large gathering of friends and relatives being present for this wedding of marked dignity and beauty.

Church Decorations. Stately palms formed the background at the altar, which was starred with three mounds of white peonies, with seven-branched candelabra holding white candles, arising from the center of each mound. Bunches of amaranth garlanded the organ rail, and white peonies were used to decorate the rail, with seven-branched candelabra holding white candles arising from the center of the floral mounds. The lights were shaded with tulip-shaped shades, and the pews for the families and intimate friends were marked with clusters of Easter lilies tied with white satin ribbon. A white satin pre-dieu was placed at the foot of the altar, upon which the bride and groom knelt to plight their troth.

Preceding the entrance of the bride party Miss Martha E. Smith rendered the hymn "The Evening Star," from Tannhauser; "Venezian Love Song," by Nivins; Schubert's "Serenade," "Andantino," by Lemaire. Vaughn Omer sang, "Sweet Mystery of Life," by Victor Herbert, and "Until," by Sanderson. During the ceremony "To a Wild Rose," by MacDowell, was played, and "Perfect Love" was sung by Mr. Omer. The wedding march from "Lohegrin" was played as the procession entered, and the Mendelssohn wedding march from "Midsummer Night's Dream," as the recessional.

Bridal Party. The ushers were Frank Settle, Roanoke, Va.; Tom Williams, Chattanooga, Tenn.; John Orr, Mobile, Ala.; and Raymond Musser, Norfolk, Va., and the groomsmen included Louis Shearer, Lynchburg, Va.; Moorman Parker, of Emory and Henry, Va.; Henry Mays and Elbert Roane, Atlanta.

The bridesmaids were Miss Glenna Roper, Mrs. Bernard Cooper, sister of the groom, of Washington, D. C.; Miss Mary McCullough, cousin of the bride; Mrs. Wells Hoge and Miss Vivian Gregory, while the matron of honor was Mrs. Samuel Leslie Crow, of Asheville, N. C., only sister of the bride. The bridesmaids and matron of honor were attired in duplicate gowns of opaline pink chiffon fashioned along princess lines with full ankle-length circular skirts. Silver slippers completed their costumes. They carried mixed bouquets of Ophelia roses, blue delphinium and snapdragons tied with orchid ribbon.

Beautiful Bride. The beautiful bride entered the church with her mother, who also acted as matron of honor. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Laurie Ray, of Reddick, Fla. Mrs. Mathews' gown was also of opaline pink chiffon, made along similar lines to those of the bridesmaids. Her bouquet was of Talisman roses and blue delphinium.

The bride was radiantly lovely in her wedding gown of ivory satin, made long and tight-fitting and the neckline round and the skirt was long and circular. The tulle wedding veil was showered with orange blossoms, the veil being adjusted to her face by a caplike arrangement of real lace, finished at each side by clusters of orange blossoms. Her slippers were of ivory crepe. She carried a shower bouquet of valley lilies tied with white satin ribbon.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was given by Mrs. Mathews and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McCullough, aunt and uncle of the bride, at their home on Druid place. The home was artistically decorated with palms, ferns and a profusion of garden flowers. The bride's table was overlaid with a handsome lace cloth, the centerpiece being a silver bowl filled with white sweet peas, bay breath and fern. At one end of the table was the bride's cake, elaborately decorated with valley lilies and oranges.

Mrs. McCullough was gowned in powder blue chiffon with corsage of sweetheart roses and valley lilies. Mrs. Holden, mother of the groom, wore a gown of green lace with corsage of Ophelia roses and valley lilies. Mr. and Mrs. Holden left for an extended motor trip north. The bride's going-away gown was a stunning ensemble of eggshell crepe combined

FOLLOW THE CROWDS TO RICH'S!

300 People Weighed on Rich's

Broad Street Scales in 1 Hour

Last Thrift Thursday!

AN AVERAGE OF 2,550 ON A BUSY DAY!

Almost three thousand people paused in their quest for pots and pans . . . frocks and furniture . . . last Thrift Thursday to step hurriedly to the white, dais, mentally register the position of the arrowed hand, and then step down to make way for other pressing claimants!

ONLY 1 IN EVERY 20 STOPS TO WEIGH!

And, by actual count, only one in every twenty of the persons passing through that particular door stops to mount the scales! That fact swells the total of pedestrians through one entrance alone to more than 50,000 in one day.

4 ENTRANCES IN ALL TO RICH'S!

An astute statistician might amaze you with the statement that it naturally follows that at least 200,000 customers throng to Rich's daily. Not so we. Native honesty bids us admit that we chose a peak day and our most popular entrance . . . but we are just proud enough and enthusiastic enough to admit that the total was staggering even to our own crowd-proof personnel!

Receptions and Hop Will Mark Activities at Fort This Week

FORT McPHERSON, June 5.—The garrison set is interested these early June days in the two receptions and hop to take place this week at the Fort McPherston Officers' Club. This evening Colonel Lochlin W. Caffey and Mrs. Caffey and Miss Helen Caffey will be honored at a reception and dance at the club. Colonel Caffey and Mrs. Caffey and Miss Caffey leave June 11 for a motor trip through Florida before reporting to Colonel Caffey's new station at Fort Benning, Ga., where he will be in command of the 24th infantry. Colonel Caffey served with the 24th some years ago on the Mexican border and the command is gratified to know of his early arrival at the infantry school. During his station at Fort McPherston Colonel Caffey has been in command of the Club Officers' and has endeavored himself to the entire personnel who regret his departure. Friday evening Brigadier General George H. Estes and Mrs. Estes, Colonel Henry Ashley Ripley and Mrs. Ripley and Colonel Caffey will receive the guests. Miss Patricia Donahue will act as official hostess for the affair.

Saturday morning, June 7, the Officers' club will entertain at a reception at their club rooms at 10:45 o'clock in compliment to Major General Charles P. Sumner, who will be a distinguished guest in army circles. Major General Frank H. McCoy and Mrs. McCoy, Brigadier General George H. Estes and Mrs. Estes and the honor guest will receive the guests numbering the military contingent.

ers will be placed for 14 members of the garrison contingent. The same evening Captain Oscar Stanley Smith and Mrs. Smith will entertain at dinner at their quarters in honor of Major Carl H. Seals and Mrs. Seals, who will leave in a few weeks for their new home in Washington, D. C. Covers will be placed for 10 members of the military set. Miss J. M. Rolland Lamar Dean, of Sanford and Miami, Fla., are the guests of Captain Albert G. Wing at their quarters at the post.

Colonel Henry A. Ripley returned early this week at the garrison from Arkansas. Lieutenant Henry S. Ripley, of the U. S. S. Lexington, arrived Tuesday to be the guest of his parents, Colonel Ripley and Mrs. Ripley for a fortnight at the post.

Officers Honored. Saturday evening, June 7, Colonel Caffey and Major Carl H. Seals, will be guests at a dinner to be given by the non-commissioned officers of the 22nd infantry at the mess hall of the post. Master Sergeant Aaron B. Calhoun will act as master of ceremonies and Sergeant Hardie C. Edenfield will be in charge of arrangements. The dinner tendered the regimental and battalion commanders will express the sincerest appreciation the non-commissioned personnel feel toward these able officers.

Covers will be placed for the two honor guests, the non-commissioned officers, Brigadier General G. H. Estes, Lieutenant Charles R. Landon, Lieutenant Colonel Daniel M. Cheston, Lieutenant A. J. Monger, Lieutenant Joseph O. Enarud and Warrant Officer James C. Eldridge.

The inter-circuit polo tournament will be continued in a fast six-chucker game at the post Sunday afternoon between the Fort Bragg team and the winners of the Fort Benning-Sixth cavalry game to be played late in the week. The polo tournament has been one of the biggest events of the sport in both Atlanta and the post and hundreds of spectators have attended each of the 15-series games. Beautiful trophy cups are being presented the winning teams and the American Polo Association has offered an especially beautiful trophy for the winner of the inter-circuit tournament.

Thursday evening Captain Richard T. Edwards and Mrs. Edwards entertained at a dinner at Druid Hills Golf Club in honor of Major Carl H. Seals and Mrs. Seals. Covers were placed for 28 members of the military set.

Miss Mildred Lee Weds Mr. Austin In Ceremony in Avondale Estates

AVONDALE ESTATES, Ga., June 5.—A marriage characterized by beauty and charm was that of Miss Mildred Lee and Daniel Austin, which was solemnized Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Avondale Estates Baptist church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. B. L. Bond, who is pastor of the Avondale Baptist church. Preceding the entrance of the bride party Mrs. Gregory was at the piano and Mrs. Martin at the violin, while Mrs. C. L. Phillips sang "O Promise Me" and "To a Wild Rose."

The church was decorated with palms and ferns and an improvised altar was hanked with palms and garlands of gladioli. Large floor baskets of snow balls were placed on either side of the altar and seven-branched candelabra being placed there also.

Bridal Party. The groomsmen were Hollis Austin, L. C. Bennett, Mercer Austin, Jimmie Morgan, and the bridesmaids were gowns fashioned alike, being made of net over a background of satin and trimmed with satin bows. They wore satin slippers of matching shade. Miss Vesta Osborn wore pink; Miss Francis, white; Miss Edith, white; Miss Hart, yellow, and Miss Doris Holcombe, green. They carried arm bouquets of vari-colored flowers including sweet peas, snapdragons, and larkspurs and swansdown, tied with satin ribbon.

The maid of honor, Miss Virginia Austin, sister of the groom, wore blue taffeta made on long lines, and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses. Mrs. M. C. Farrar, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a coral taffeta and net, made on similar lines of the maid of honor. Her flowers were red roses, tied with matching ribbon. The little flower girls, Misses Edith and Mildred Perkins, wore pink and blue chiffon dresses and carried baskets of sweet peas. Little Roy Freeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Freeman, was ring bearer, and wore white satin and carried the ring on a white satin pillow. The trainbearers were Bobby Miller and Jean Ford.

The lovely bride entered with her father, by whom she was given in marriage. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, James Lee, brother of the bride. The bride is a brunette and was beautiful in her gown of white satin trimmed in seed pearls, pieces of the bride were little shape around her face, and across the front of it were tiny orange blossoms and the very long court train was white satin and lace. She carried an arm bouquet of white rose buds, tied with white satin ribbon and showered with orange blossoms. Her shoes were of white satin, trimmed with orange blossoms.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Austin, parents of the groom, entertained with a reception at their home in Avondale, assembling members and friends of the wedding party, and the house was decorated with spring flowers.

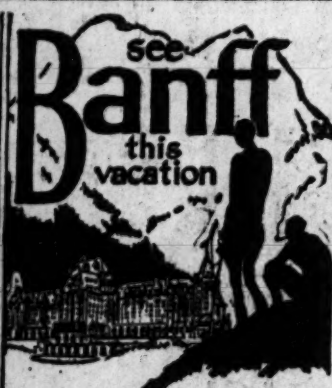

Mrs. Austin was crowned in black lace with corsage of sweet peas, and was assisted by her daughters, Mrs. Harold Ford and Mrs. Burgess Hairston, who wore orchid and pink gowns of taffeta. Miss Bertha Lee, sister of the bride, wore flowered chiffon. The bride is the youngest daughter of H. E. Lee and her sisters are Mesdames Dan Holcombe, M. C. Farrar, Harold Whiteside, Lee Hudgins and brother, James Lee. She received her education at the Avondale High school.

Mr. Austin is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Austin, and is the brother of Mesdames Harold Ford, Burgess Hairston, Miss Virginia Austin and James Austin. He is connected with the DeKalb County Commission and is a member of the wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Austin will make their home in Avondale Estates, Ga.

Fair, smooth skin quickly

Thousands of attractive girls owe their lovely complexion to this one wonderful beauty-aid—Nadinola Bleaching Cream. You simply smooth it on at bedtime—no complicated treatments, no tiresome waiting, no disappointments. Instantly you feel its tonic effect. Tan and freckles, pimples, muddy sallow color—all vanish before it. It brings whiteness and velvety-smoothness up from underneath the darkest, weathered, roughened surface. Yet so gentle is its action that it is harmless, even to the most delicate skin. Every package contains a positive, money-back guarantee to give you full, simple directions. Don't put off your start toward beauty—begin tonight.

Ask for Nadinola at your drug or cosmetic counter. The fifty-cent Nadinola package contains as much as most dollar bleaching creams. The dollar size is more than twice as large. National Toilet Co., Paris, Tenn.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

THREE PAGES

ATLANTA, GA., FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 6, 1930.

PAGE SEVENTEEN

Gone is the nightmare of a baseball team that could not win for losing.

Instead is a Cracker club hustling its spikes off and fighting up through the rear guard toward first division.

They slashed a wide swath through Nashville and Birmingham. The best place to start winning is on the road. When a club gets home it seems easier.

Unless the reaction of baseball fans has changed since last year, a mob will be on hand to see the rebuilt and newly-painted Crackers open today on the home lot.

JOHNNY REGAINS YOUTH.

It will be a treat to see Johnny Dobbs looking like the old fox hunter himself again.

The night after the Crackers lost that last double-header to Chattanooga, Johnny Dobbs came dragging up the ramp leading from the dressing room. He was 20 pounds off weight; his eyes had gone far back in his head; his cheeks were flabby; he looked to be 70 years old.

The constant strain of losing ball games when he could not put his finger on the loose connection had taken a terrific toll of him.

By this time he must be sparkling; the reaction must be pronounced. If he comes in carrying a balloon and a toy horn it would surprise no one. He has earned a few good laughs.

ZIPP LIKES CRACKERS.

Here is what Brother Zipp Newman had to say about the Crackers in the Birmingham News Wednesday:

"Gangway, men! Johnny Dobbs, the scourge of Southern league managers, has slapped the war paint on his Crackers, supplied them with automatic rifles and makes known his intention of going places. The overhauled Crackers, many of the new parts being supplied from collegiate sources, looked like the best hitting club to play Rickwood this year when they socked the Barons for 20 hits Tuesday. And there weren't but two fluke hits in the assortment. And what a day Barron and Grimes had at the expense of Plue and Hasty."

"The once down-trodden flock of Dobbs made socking history in winning their fifth straight. Atlanta scored four runs before a man was retired in the first and batted in four in the seventh after the first two batters had been retired. All told, 14 runs were socked across the plate. The Crackers didn't wait for the Barons to boot in any runs."

"Yes, sir, the Crackers came out of the cellar full of punch brew. And talk about the Atlantas needing a gay, fuzzy face youngster on third is all bosh. Jimmy Johnston can still play third and how. The former high jumper of the Lookouts and all-around athlete, when he was not making great throws to first he was selling out around the bases, poling a home run into deep right-center for his last official act of the game."

"There is plenty room ahead for the Crackers. Once passed the traffic jam at the entrance to the cellar and they can bounce right into third place—maybe higher if they retain their collegiate atmosphere and punch brew."

"It might be good to know what Dobbs thought of his championship club as he coached against them on the sidelines—leading high and holding up numerous fingers. And the old habit of the fans was so strong that they couldn't help giving Johnny a noisy hand."

Brother Zipp had a great time kidding the Crackers when the season started, but the mishaps of the Barons soon took his mind off his neighbors. Now he has forgotten all.

OH! WELL, NOTHING ELSE TO DO.

The National Boxing Commission will recognize the winner of the Sharkey-Schmeling-Hearst Milk Fund fight the champion of the world. The commission explained it had tried to draw Jack Dempsey into committing himself on a come-back, but he had remained silent. So there was nothing else left to do.

The reluctance of the N. B. A. to coming right out and endorsing the Sharkey-Schmeling issue as constituting election makes it unanimous. The rank and file of those enumerated in the census would install the Old Mauler favorite if he were to fight either (or both) of the gentlemen named as candidates.

Neither of the candidates is presidential timber exactly; just a couple of congressmen you might say. Against Gene Tunney either Sharkey or Schmeling would run second.

Perhaps the winner will manage to look good enough to inspire public enthusiasm; it is a lot to expect, but then it costs nothing to be optimistic.

At least the promoters are to be congratulated on getting the championship settled even if it amounts to a scrap of paper.

WHAT THE PRIZE RING WILL DO FOR YOU.

"King Solomon's antics about camp have just about earned him the title as camp jester. The old king is always the fall guy for Jack Sharkey's practical jokes. It seems at times that Solomon deliberately smokes the exploding cigars so that Sharkey can have a good laugh. The king just worships Sharkey."—Press bulletin from Sharkey's camp.

This pitiful case should be a great lesson to boys who entertain hopes of becoming a fighter some day. And when one thinks that some day his own son might be smoking exploding cigars to amuse another greater boxer—My it's awful to contemplate!

Von Porat Reconsiders Refusal of Stribling Fight

CRACKERS RETURN HOME TODAY

Three Young Players Who Helped Start Crackers on Winning Streak

Von Porat Is Likely To Fight W.L. After All

Norwegian Heavyweight Suspended Unless He Meets Strib in Chicago Ring.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 5.—W. L. (Young) Stribling may fight Otto Von Porat, the hesitating Norwegian, after all.

Von Porat, given a six-month "set-down" Thursday by the Illinois State Athletic Commission for his refusal to go on with the Georgia heavyweight, is considering taking the fight after all so that the suspension and consequent loss of matches in the money belt of the east may be avoided. Von Porat had verbally agreed to meet Stribling June 16 at Chicago.

Strib Beats Wine At Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 5.—(P)—W. L. (Young) Stribling, of Macon, Ga., won an easy ten-round decision over Frankie Wine, Montana blacksmith, here tonight.

Stribling pounded his foe unmercifully. It was the third scrap between the pair and the third time Wine has gone the limit with the Georgia heavyweight. Stribling weighed 190 1-2, Wine 185.

Spoke Webb, of Savannah, Ga., outpointed Sailor Blacklock, of Mobile, in the semi-final ten-round.

George Von Elm In French Finals

LA BOULIE, France, June 6.—(P)—George Von Elm won his way to the 30-hole final of the French amateur golf championship today, but he had to stage a sensational recovery to take his semi-final battle from Andre Goret, one up, 19 holes. The Detroit-born, three down when only four holes remained to be played.

The former amateur champion of the United States squared the match at the 18th and won with a birdie 3 at the 19th. Goret, former tennis champion of France, became wild from the tee in his closing play.

Von Elm won his quarter-final match from another American, defeating Raleigh Allen, Asheville, N. C., 4 and 3.

The American will be opposed in the final championship test by R. G. Morrison, England, who won the other semi-final match from Lew Orrell, Saint Germain.

Husta Reinstated And Made Manager

PORTLAND, Ore., June 5.—(P)—Thomas L. Turner, president of the Portland Baseball Club of the Pacific Coast League, announced today that Carl Husta, infielder, suspended in 1927 for failure to report, has been reinstated and sent to Winston-Salem, N. C., to become playing manager in the Piedmont league.

Bill Tilden Wins Twice at Berlin

BERLIN, June 5.—(P)—Bill Tilden won two matches today in the Rottem Club tennis tournament, defeating Hans Deydreich, of Germany, in the singles, 7-5, 6-2, and then pairing with Fraulein Aussem to down Miss Huns and Count Salms von Hoogstraten, of Austria, 6-2, 6-1.

Red Barron

Luke Appling, Ogleshorpe; Red Barron, Georgia Tech, and Hugh Starling, Alabama, have helped the Crackers no little in their winning streak. Starling is expected to be in the box today at Spiller field when the club meets the Vols.

CARNERA STOPS K. O. CHRISTNER

DETROIT, June 5.—(P)—Pietro Carnera, Italian giant, knocked out K. O. Christner, of Akron, Ohio, in the fourth round of a scheduled 10-round bout at the fair grounds tonight.

Christner put up a game struggle, but the odds were against him. Carnera entered the ring at 285 pounds and Christner at 211. The Italian made exceptionally good use of his extra inches of reach, time and again holding Christner off at arm's length with one hand while he peppered him with the other.

Christner, who was expected to make his greatest play for Carnera's midriff and solar plexus, aimed most of his blows higher. He used both hands, but favored his left, which also was unexpected.

His fine showing in the first round caused the immense throng to little short of wild, but it calmed down in the second and succeeding rounds, when Carnera showed to better advantage.

In putting Christner down for the long count Carnera accomplished something that outstanding heavyweights of the country have tried and failed to do. It was the first knock-out of the Akronite's career. When he fell to the mat it was with a heavy thud, and he lay there well after the final count of Referee Slim McClelland.

Tubby Calls on Father To Scout for Pitcher

Late Thursday night there was a plaintive call from Tubby Walton's father. Mr. Walton calls every night to find out how the Huntsville club, managed by his son, came out in the day's game.

But Thursday night Mr. Walton appeared as a baseball scout. He has grown gray and accumulated some years and the respect of his community without ever thinking that some day he would have to go out scouting for ball players.

"I wish you'd help me find a ball player," he said. "Tubby wired me to send him a pitcher and I can't find the one he wants. Tubby Walton will probably come back a shadow of his former self. It would not be surprising to find him come home weighing 250 pounds. This baseball life is a wearing one."

Barons Halt Crackers' Winning Streak, 7 to 1

Dobbs' Boys Lose After Taking Six Straight on Road; Home Today.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 5.—Atlanta's road trip ended here this afternoon with the first defeat in seven games played. The Barons routed Red Oldham and won 7 to 1 after dropping two straight to the Crackers. The game started well and for four innings was a nothing to nothing. The Barons got to Oldham in the fifth for six runs.

The Crackers left here tonight for Atlanta in a great frame of mind. They had won six out of the last seven played, beating Nashville three times after winning the last one at home before going on the road. They followed with two in a row over the Barons.

Dobbs expressed himself as being satisfied with his club's performance and declared that he thought they might get going and manage to elevate themselves in the race a bit more.

TOUCHSTONE SHINES.

Clayman Touchstone was just as much an enigma to the Crackers Thursday as he was in Atlanta last week, when he whipped the Dobbsons in an eleven-inning game. He stood out there on the mound with the necessary article to dry up the fountain of alien hits, spinning a curve that baffled even the old heads on the Cracker club. Four times the first Cracker up got aboard—only one got around. The blond Dutchman reached the peak of his exhibition in the fifth, when Bobby Lamotte led off with a triple and perished. Polivog was called out for watching the third strike go zooming over the plate. Johnston fouled to Eisenman, and Black threw out Oldham.

Double plays warped the Crackers' ambitions in the fourth and seventh, and the last six batters went out in order.

RED STARTS GREAT.

Red Oldham started great—he whizzed by the first 11 batters with only two balls being hit out of the infield. Jack Sheehan threw out five of the 11 men, coming up with two great slope back of second. Then came the breaking of ice. Bennett beat out a slow drag to Johnston for the first hit off Oldham. Church was out in the fifth for Oldham. The Barons slipped up on his blind side. With one away, Drew drew a base on balls. Sturdy dumped a grounder in front of Lamotte and it looked like a double play for sure. Lamotte fumbled and the Barons beheld a break. And what an inspiration it was.

Peel Quits Golf; Returns With Ace

Dick Peel, former well-known high school athlete in Atlanta, quit golf on May 31, 1929. He quit because he was not proficient enough to suit himself.

Thursday afternoon H. O. Davis, assistant professional at Piedmont park, decided to let out some information about how Peel took up the game again with a vim.

One year afterward, on May 31, 1930, Dick Peel came out to Piedmont park. He made a hole in one on No. 4. And will never give up golf again.

Darkness Victor In One-Horse Race

NEW YORK, June 5.—(P)—With only one horse finishing the course, Thomas Hitchcock's Darkness today turned the Meadowbrook steeplechase handicap into a farce as he galloped over the Belmont Park turf unchallenged.

Only three jumpers went to the post, but after the seventh fence Darkness, with G. H. (Pete) Bostwick, had the race won. Mrs. Payne Whitney's veteran jumper, Jolly Roger, the 1-to-2 favorite, fell at the third obstacle, while Melita 2d, an added starter, ran out at the seventh jump.

His two rivals dropped out. Bostwick pulled the Hitchcock leaper into a gallop and finished the two and one-half mile course in the time of 5:20 to collect $2,000. Melita was well played at 2 to 1. Dolly Dyers, who was astride Jolly Roger, received a broken arm and cuts about the face as the result of the fall.

Sonny Workman again exhibited his ability to score on two-year-olds when he rode Mrs. Victor Emanuel's High Day to victory in the Ladies' Owners purse—a sprint of four and one-half furlongs for juveniles. The turf youngster was quoted at 10 to 5.

Rockne Watches Son Win Honors

KANSAS CITY, June 5.—(P)—He may be the "great" Notre Dame coach" ordinarily, but he was just "Billy Rockne's dad" at his son's graduation from the Pembroke school seventh grade yesterday.

Knute Rockne was back in Chicago today after several hours here yesterday spent in the role of fond father and family man.

His exhibition of domesticity began as he sat by his wife at the Pembroke school, his face reflecting the bland smiles of pleased parenthood all about him.

It ended when the mentor of the Four Horsemen and other lethal football combinations piloted a group of little Rocknes through a maze of swings, riding devices and other impediments of an amusement park.

It also included a trip to a theater to view a newsworthy picture of Knute Rockne winning numerous prizes at a fifth grade track meet.

Joyce Wethered Wins From Tolley

BYFLEET, England, June 5.—(P)—Miss Joyce Wethered defeated J. H. Tolley, 2 up and 1 to play, in a novel match at Byfleet today, when teams of British stars opposed well known players.

The women were started 2 up and drove from the forward tee.

Neither Miss Wethered nor Tolley played outstanding golf. Miss Wethered retained her two-hole lead at the turn and was still 2 up when 17 holes had been played.

HUGH STARLING OR DUMOVICH DUE TO PITCH

Vols Will Oppose Dobbs' Fighting Clan at 3 O'Clock.

By Ralph McGill.

Johnny and his Cracker heroes come marching home today owning one of the finest winning streaks accumulated by any club this season. They meet the Vols at 3 o'clock. It's Ladies' Day.

Less than one short week ago the Crackers were civic heroes who fiddled around while the fan flock burned down. But today they are blooming heroes, yes, sir, heroes. Six straight victories came before the Barons upset them Thursday. But six out of seven on the road still makes them heroes.

They went away losers and they came back winners. Then went away in last place and they came back out of last place and high onto sixth place.

That noise that dings faintly in the ear is the cheers from the fans who are just itching to walk up to the ticket window and put down money in order to go in and cheer the Crackers.

STARLING ON HILL.

Hugh Starling, the cap and gown pitcher from Alabama, is scheduled to go out there and toe the rubber this afternoon while the ladies, God bless 'em, oh and ah about how cute and handsome and strong and valiant and young and fine he is. Or it may be Nick Dumovich, the tall young left-hander from Los Angeles. He is another favorite of the feminine fans. St. Nicholas can throw that baseball and John Dobbs can throw that Cracker. There is no telling what John Dobbs is thinking about. Probably about how he and his Crackers will win the game and the Barons will lose.

It was Hugh Starling who rejuvenated the Crackers. He pitched the Vols silly last Monday at Sulphur Dell, shutting them out in their own cracker-box park. It is asking quite a lot of him to do it before a home mob which will be yelling itself red in the face for him. But John Dobbs last night that it was to be Hugh Starling's day unless something happened.

Reborn from the front line trenches have it that when the young and leaping blood curdles were injected into the club in the persons of Luke Appling, Red Barron and Hugh Starling, that the entire outfit began to act like kids. They took their baseball rompers seriously and began to go up instead of down the baseball ladder.

JOHNSTON GOOD.

Jimmy Johnston, who was playing baseball when Hugh Starling was tossing things out of his cradle, has been playing a magnificent game at this time. He has also been hitting well.

The entire club has been pushing itself along at such a dizzy pace that the baseball populace in Atlanta has been whipped into an enthusiasm that is as genuine as it is incongruous when one considers that it is inspired by a club in seventh place.

The Crackers have one brand-new face in the lineup in the place of Bobby Lamotte, who until a day or two ago was playing with the outcasts. Bobby Lamotte stepped into Johnny Jones' position at shortstop and is going along well.

HITTING SURPRISING.

The hitting of the club has been surprising. Johnny Dobbs felt all right about the hitting club. The records of last season showed that his hired hands were able to slap the ball to places where no fielders were. Yet it was not until the club went on the road last Sunday that they began to hit the ball. The pitchers slaughtered by the Crackers this week make up a list almost as long as the casualty list from some minor war down in the tropics. The boys were really taking too holds and slugging.

A new civic heroes play the Vols today and Saturday. They then take to the road again, going over to Chattanooga for a novel match at Byfleet today, when teams of British stars opposed well known players.

John J. Spiller, Cracker business manager, refused to communicate with the club all week. "I was just afraid to say anything," he said. "They were going so fine I didn't dare ask Johnny Dobbs a question."

A MERRY WEEK.

The Southern Association has had a merry week. Nashville was in third place as a result of going higher when the Crackers landed there last Friday. Now the Vols are in fifth place.

Memphis slipped from the lead during the week and is a game behind the Pelicans now, the Birds battling their way out in front.

Mobile kept sliding down. Chattanooga advanced out of the second division to slip into the first. The cellar door is a difficult one to get through.

All indications point to more turmoil. This race is really just getting warm.

Joyce Wethered Wins From Tolley

BYFLEET, England, June 5.—(P)—Miss Joyce Wethered defeated J. H. Tolley, 2 up and 1 to play, in a novel match at Byfleet today, when teams of British stars opposed well known players.

The women were started 2 up and drove from the forward tee.

Neither Miss Wethered nor Tolley played outstanding golf. Miss Wethered retained her two-hole lead at the turn and was still 2 up when 17 holes had been played.

Jones' Victory in British Amateur Showed Boredom of Odds

FIFTY TO ONE NOT ENOUGH FOR 4 MEETS

Amateur Meet Showed How Often Slight Upsets May Occur.

By Ralph Trost.

BROOKLYN, June 5.—Even Atlanta still over their heads in a wild spree of rejoicing, will admit the obvious unfairness of the 50-to-1 odds. Jones was willing to lay against the chance that Bob Jones would win all four major golf tournaments in which he arranged to play—the British amateur and open and the United States amateur and open.

Jones has won the British amateur. From one point of view that got him over the biggest stumbling block, for it was the one he previously had been unable to straddle. But, even at that, there are still three highly competitive events ahead.

Recall the slight things which might have upset the journey of the conqueror. If Jimmy Johnston had put for a birdie on the 18th hadn't flurried with the cup instead of dropping, our national amateur champion might have won that match. If Cyril Tolley had not been laid a neat stymie on the 19th green of his test with Bobby, it might have been Tolley who encountered Wethered in the final last Saturday.

And then there was that match with George Voigt. The latter's drive out of bounds on the 14th was a great help. Don't forget that treacherous nine-footer, which was declared to have been an almost exact duplicate of the one Bob Jones hit on the 18th green at the Winged Foot Club last year in the national open. If that hadn't dropped Jones would have left the 18th tee not all even but one down. You can bet that under such circumstances Voigt never would have plopped his approach shot into the "valley of sin" and taken five for the hole.

MAY YET COLLECT.

These are just "ifs." Despite them Jones triumphed and has advanced one stage on the journey which may give him neighbors in Atlanta, $50 for each dollar wagered. Yet remember that Jones came through, emerged triumphant from all those tight places and the law of averages proclaims many, many more times than he did during the next three championship tournaments. Fifty to 1? The odds should have been 100 to 1. A pyramid would have been better than all for the takers.

You could have gotten better than 5 to 1 on Jones in the British amateur championship. And for all his victory at St. Andrews, the odds will be approximately the same a Hoylake next week. If he gets past these two tournaments and wins in the United States open at Interlachen with odds of at least 2 to 1, his backer would be much better off—in a position to withdraw with profit or to carry on against even more odds than he would now get more than 100 to 1, which is a big jump ahead of the 50 to 1 odds put down by Lloyds.

ONCE A YEAR.

This man Jones is a great golfer with much more than a good "great." Yet he is not unquarrelable in some tournament somewhere, maybe at Hoylake, at Interlachen or Merion. Just one poor putt, and he will be a champion. He knows it. Day in and day out this sturdy chap from Atlanta is the greatest golfer this world has ever known. His record for sheer consistency will probably never be equaled. But there's no man in golf unbeatable some time.

The world is now all the more convinced that Bob Jones cannot be beaten in a 36-hole match by any amateur. At St. Andrews, Roger Wethered did his best with some genuine scrambling from shots many of which were better than Jones'. Yet Wethered lost by the considerable margin of 7 and 6, the loss of approximately one hole to Jones in each four played.

Wethered lacked the all-around greatness of Bob. He lost on the tees and the greens where, for years, most matches are decided.

POOR DRIVES. One can readily understand from the record of that British amateur final why it is that the professionals are always concentrating on driving and putting. They know that it takes nothing short of steady brilliance with the iron to overcome poor wood club play and that it is next to impossible to hit iron shots as precisely.

Furthermore, what good is it to reach the green if you can't putt? Everyone who has attained any distinction in competition knows that. If you can hit a long ball your chances of scrambling from shots many of which are good. If you can also putt, a large percentage of pars will be the reward. And Bob Jones, certainly no poor iron player, is one of the world's finest drivers of the tee and not the best of all golfers.

Jones nicked par repeatedly at St. Andrews, despite some putting that was not his best. It's pretty difficult accomplishing the feat of trimming so capable a player. Yet he was beaten by George von Elm in a 36-hole match in the national amateur of 1929, dazed by a stroke by slender Willie Macfarlane in the open of 1925, beaten by a stroke at Olympia Fields by Johnny Farrell in 1928 and trimmed by Johnny Goodman at Pebble Beach last year. It may be that in losing to Horton Smith at Savannah this spring Jones suffered his defeat for 1930.

Bob Jones is the greatest golfer this world has known and his career is by a long way the greatest of any amateur. He is likely to be a major victor that will not be equaled in 50 years, if ever. But he is not a 50 to 1 shot to win all four major championships in the short span of 12 months. No man is. A golf course, any one, is too stout an opponent to be humbled that way. But, if Bobby Jones comes through, every golfer in this world will rejoice.

Lakemont Boy Lands Big Bass

Above is a picture of Guy W. Hall, Jr., the boy guide of Lakemont, holding an 11-pound bass he caught recently. The youngster is a thoroughly skillful fisherman who knows where to go to get the big ones. The fish was of the big mouth variety. Guy caught him trolling and landed him without assistance. Many Atlantans know Guy, Jr., and will be glad to learn that he is in mid-season form already.

WEBB ARRIVES TODAY FOR BOUT

Rios Already Here Training—Balack Beaten by Georgian.

Spike Webb will return to Atlanta this morning to begin his training for his 10-round battle Tuesday night with Tommy Rios, Mexican brawler who does his fighting out of Chicago.

Rios is already in the city polishing up for the fight. He will work out each day until the fight at the company gymnasium on Butler street.

Webb added Soldier Black to his list of victims last night when he outpointed the Georgian in the semi-final at Birmingham in the semi-final to the Strubling-Wey fight.

Rios is the boy who defeated Ted Goodrich in Chicago recently and Webb is pointing to this bout. A victory over the boy who stopped Goodrich when he was fast nearing the "dangerous stage" of the welterweight ranks would mean quite a lot to the Georgian and he is not going to pass up a thing that might land him the decision. On the other hand, Rios is going to show Atlanta fans that he did not win over Goodrich on a "Chicago decision." He plans a terrific scrap. It should be a good fight Tuesday night.

TENNIS PLAYERS READY FOR MEET

Atlanta tennis players are losing no late afternoons or mornings either, preparing for the city tennis tournament which will be played June 17 on the East Lake Country Club courts. The first of a series of amateur tournaments to be held through the summer months was completed Wednesday between showmen at East Lake, George Boynton and Jimmy Halverstad, retaining their boys' and juniors' titles respectively.

Bryan Grant, who won the title last year, has been practicing almost daily for the past two months at Chapel Hill, N. C., where he has been a student at the University of North Carolina. Grant is an improved tennis player and will be a favorite to retain his singles championship.

Jack Moore, who lost to Grant in the final last year, has been practicing steadily for the past months and will be ready to give the former champion another hard scrap.

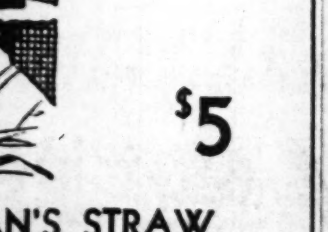

Others who are likely to give trouble before the tournament is over are: Billy Reese, Jimmy Halverstad, Darlington High star who has not lost a match this year and who won the boys' singles title at East Lake; Harry Gault, Jack Simpson. Not forgetting the possibilities of a dark horse.

Entries are being received by Jack Moore at A. G. Spalding & Brothers, 74 North Broad street.

PITCHING SENSATIONS. Fred Heimach and Wiley Moore, former Yankees, are the pitching sensations of the American association. Moore is with St. Paul and Heimach with Toledo.

World has known and his career is by a long way the greatest of any amateur. He is likely to be a major victor that will not be equaled in 50 years, if ever. But he is not a 50 to 1 shot to win all four major championships in the short span of 12 months. No man is. A golf course, any one, is too stout an opponent to be humbled that way. But, if Bobby Jones comes through, every golfer in this world will rejoice.

Father's Day is Sunday, June 15. "Give Muse Gifts."

UNCLE ROBBIE SAYS CONTROL 'MAKES' LUQUE

Former Red Enjoys New Success With Winning Brooklyn Club.

By Thomas Holmes.

BROOKLYN, June 5.—The secret of it all, according to Manager Wilbert Robinson, is good control.

"When some of my other pitchers are in a jam," said the manager of your onrushing Robins, "I sit on pins and needles. But when the breaks are going against old Adolph, I just sit back confidently and watch the 'Old Fox' pitch out of trouble."

Senior Adolfo Luque, the pride of Cuba, sat on the Brooklyn bench not five feet away as his boss launched this flattering tribute to his pitching. He winked at your reporter in an embarrassed way.

"Yes, sir," rambled Robinson. "And do you know why? It's because old Adolph can put the ball where he wants to put it. He keeps his nerve in the pinches and never loses his control. That gives him a great edge over the anxious hitter who finds himself compelled to hit what old Adolph wants him to hit."

LIFE OF REILLY.

Again, I caught Luque's eye. Again came that quick embarrassed wink. Don Adolfo is living the life of Reilly these days. After 10 years of toil for the weak-kneed Cincinnati Reds, he finds himself pitching for a ball team that goes out and gets him some runs. Over a decade in Cincinnati, he pitched amazingly effective ball—his last more than a year ago.

If he allowed the opposition two runs, Cincinnati would invariably be held to one. If he held the opposition team to a "Chicago decision," he would have pitched about with better fielding support.

A pretty soft racket, thinks Senor Luque, or words to that effect in Spanish. He won only four games in 1929, but he was not a failure. He has won five already and has yet to suffer a defeat since he donned the uniform of the hard-knocking Robins. If he reaches 100 wins, he will be praised for his pitching.

HITTERS BEHAVE.

If you follow a ball game closely you will be amazed at the ease in which Luque's delivery is made. He has just as he desires. The first inning of last Sunday's game against the Phillies furnished a splendid example of the pitcher's art. At that time no one could foretell that the Robins would come up with 10 runs. Lester Sweetland, who hit for Burt Shotton and Sweetland, usually gives the Robins trouble.

Barney Friberg started the game with a clean swing. Jack Sherlock, a right-handed hitter, swung into position.

That meant only one thing to Luque. He must make Sherlock hit on the ground and to the left side of the diamond and take advantage of the percentage of a double play possibility. If the ball got through the infield, according to Luque's reasoning, Friberg would not advance beyond second on the single. On the other hand, if Sherlock hit to right field and the ball got through, Friberg would undoubtedly advance to third and be in a position to score on a sacrifice fly.

Sherlock, of course, preferred a fast ball to one that he could not hit right field. Any right-handed hitter has a tendency to pull a curve ball into left. But try as the Phillie hitter could, he couldn't sidestep hitting Luque's curve. The result was a fly shot out to Eddie Moore. It looked like a sure double play. But the exultant roar died in the throats of the fast Flowers dropped Moore's throw at second and both runners were safe.

SMART PITCHING.

That brought up the mighty Chuck Klein. Luque bent his concentrated energy on the business of foxing the hitting slugger. Last season he set a new National league record for home runs. Now Luque resolved to make Klein hit a fast ball, if anything. He hoped that Klein wouldn't get his bat arid in time to pull into right field.

But he did throw his curve, keeping it over the outside corner. The count became two and two. The muscles of the chunky Klein grew tense, his nerves were taut as the Phillie slugger waited for the big one. Luque rifled his fast ball across the plate. I do not know whether Klein was positive that Don Adolfo would rely on his curve in the pinch, but he did there with his bat on his shoulder, apparently amazed at the veteran's audacity. He kicked himself back to the bench.

PINKIE WHITNEY.

Pinkie Whitney, a good right-handed hitter, followed. Luque's plan here was the same as when he pitched to Sherlock. He wanted Whitney to hit the curve and drive a double play ball to the left side of the infield. But Whitney is a good hitter and things didn't come off just as Luque planned. Instead of a sharp ground ball, Whitney hit a line drive. But here is where the percentage of Luque's strategy came to his assistance. Although the Phillie third baseman was better at the bat than Luque intended him to have, he hit the curve ball in the exact direction Luque desired. Moore caught the liner and doubled Friberg off second with ease.

That is great pitching. It isn't luck. Manager Robinson says the secret of it is good control, which is only telling half the story. The rest of the tale is nerve. And then Luque has been around a long time. He knows how to pitch.

Eastern Loop Track Teams Hold Meet

Frank Ball Leads Atlanta Golfers

Frank Ball, East Lake professional, led the Atlanta golfers in the Southeastern Professional Golf Association today with a card of 151 for the 36 holes. He was in a tie for 12th place and was only five strokes back of the leaders with 146 strokes.

Other Atlanta scores follow: Jimmy Livingston, Inglefield Club, 157; Albert Jones, 152; Willie Livingston, Capital City, 159; Howard Beckett, Capital City, 161; Tommy Wilson, Ansley Park, 164; Jerry Freyberg, Druid Hills, 171; Gene Dahlbender, 174; and Billy Wilson, Piedmont Park, 178.

ALABAMA PROS LEAD TOURNAMENT

Frank Ball Scores 151 To Head Atlanta Golfers in P. G. A. Meet.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 5.—Three professional golfers—all from the state of Alabama—reared atop the field tonight in the annual tournament of the Southeastern Professional Golf Association as they completed 36 holes of the 72-hole medal play grid in triple tie. Their scores were 146.

Dividing leadership honors were Charlie Hall, of Birmingham, the defending champion; Eddie Miller, young Gadsden, Ala., pro, and Danny Goss, another Birmingham pro. Goss and Hall were forced to play part of their last 18 holes in a driving rain, as were numerous others. Miller, however, was more fortunate, having completed his 36 holes with the storm broke.

PUTTS RUIN SCORE.

Fairley Clark, flashy Savannah (Ga.) professional, and Sam Perry, crack Birmingham amateur, followed the three leaders closely with cards of 148. Clark's putting on the greens cheated him of a better score.

The close morning rounds followed Hall leading the field with a brilliant 71, compared with Miller's 74 and Goss' card of 74.

Most of the low scores of the morning round blew up in the afternoon to fall far down the list. Arnold Means, professional at Richmond Golf Club, over which course the tournament was being played, got a fine 72 in the morning but took a 78 in the afternoon for a 150 total. Alvin Gann, Jr., Vanderbilt university star, also took a 79 in the afternoon, entering, also took a 79 in the afternoon, following his 15-hole count of 72, even par.

The battle for the lead among amateurs was a duel between Sam Kirkpatrick, Jr., of Nashville, and Perry, southern amateur champion and southern intercollegiate champion. Kirkpatrick, 148, one stroke better than the former.

RAIN SLOWS PLAY.

The heavy rain of the afternoon left many of the greens covered with water, which Luque substituted for putters, accounting for the downfall of several who were in a contending position. An example of the handicaps of the rain was that of Sam Kirkpatrick, Jr., of Nashville, and Perry, southern amateur champion and southern intercollegiate champion. Kirkpatrick, 148, one stroke better than the former.

FREE SHOT COUNTS.

Captain Ireland made a free shot good for one point early in the fourth chucker from the eight-foot line. The Benning combination of Baker and Ireland scored for Benning on a good drive from the side. Herschel Baker made a free Oglethorpe foul count for one point. Jacobs, of Benning, took the ball from a throw-in and carried it down the field to score another by a long shot under the neck. Captain Ireland was thrown from his pony but played did not stop. Major Allen made a long run down the field but the defense of the Benning brothers prevented an Oglethorpe goal.

Allen got in another try before the game ended with the ball in midfield.

PASSION FLOWER

By Kathleen Norris

Twenty-Ninth Installment.

And across the road, although neither one had known it, had been a lonely, idle, baffled woman, hungry for love, watching the lights of the old Pringle house, as she had confessed to him long afterward, with an agony of jealousy in her heart.

"Well, I'm watching them now!" Dan said aloud. A chipmunk on the hedge looked at him amazedly, and with a flash of gold and brown was gone.

"That night he wrote Casey a letter. 'Well, what do you think of the book, Casey?'"

"The book I left for you yesterday." "Oh, yes—oh! I didn't read it."

"I didn't expect you to read it—it's 300 pages!" Casey started guiltily, and came suddenly to attention, as if he had been listening.

"Mac, I'm so dumb! I wasn't listening." "What's up?" he asked, with a sudden, keen, suspicious look.

"Casey glanced about the old grape arbor cautiously." "I had a letter," she confessed, in a low voice.

"From Dan?" Macallister Jesop asked with quick apprehension. Casey nodded.

"It upset me horribly," Casey said, her throat thickening. "I couldn't sleep all night."

"What'd it say?" "Nothing, really. He said—well, anyway, I knew he meant that he had had it on his mind for some time to write me and say that he was awfully sorry that I'd felt so badly, when the—when he left me, and that a man under the circumstances wasn't normal—wasn't able to judge how much pain he was giving, and—well, and that he was sorry—"

"Casey!" "I can't help it!" she said, drying her sudden rush of tears.

The man regarded her keenly for a few seconds, before he said sympathetically. "And did that make you feel so badly, Casey?"

For a minute she merely regarded him levelly. Then her lip trembled, and with a helpless, appealing look he found himself touching, she dropped her head, and pressed her brow, thin young hand tight upon her eyes.

"You can't—now, my dear girl," he began persuasively. "you can't imagine yourself as still caring about that fellow!"

"I do." "Well, it's not like you, Casey. You're too sensible a woman. It's ridiculous."

"Oh, I know that, Mac." "I'm!" the man grumbled. "I don't idealize Dan, Mac. I know he treated me badly, treated me like a—"

"Skunk," Mac supplied obligingly. "If you like," Casey said, shrugging. "But I know Dan," she went on, in a thoughtful voice, "and I know just what he did. And to understand it is to forgive, Mac."

"Some men play in luck, and some don't," the man commented dryly. "But I would rather not see him."

"Oh, he wanted to see you?" The red came up in Casey's cheeks. "Well, yes, in a way he did," she admitted. "No, I won't see him," she said. "What would be gained by it?"

"You have to take the world as it is, Mac," she argued, out of a silence. "I couldn't have done what Dad did, but I can understand his doing it."

"Well, I can't," Mac persisted briefly. "My dear Mac," she said, lightly yet deliberately, "you forget that I ran away with a chauffeur."

"Oh, well, in many ways—Wallace wasn't—," he uncomfortably began. "He was a chauffeur, Mac."

"Yes, I know. But you hear of gentlemen's sons going in for waiting on table?"

"Of course you do, only—he didn't happen to be a gentleman's son. He had no code behind him, Mac. When we were first married, it used to amaze me so, his surprise that there were rules, that there were things that could, and things that couldn't be done."

"I know they do—I know they do!" she said eagerly. "But they know. They're the skunks, if you like. Dan didn't know. That's just the difference. Why, Mac, Dan's one of the sweetest, one of the most generous men I've ever known in my life. He wants to be fine. That's what's breaking my heart now, because I know he must be coming to see what he did as it really was!"

"Casey," the man said, after a long silence, "you're beginning to think of him again?"

"What a mess!" Mac said. "Isn't it? But you can't unlove people to order," Casey argued, "any more than you can love them to order."

"I've never—," she went on, smiling and blinking—"I've never had any companion like him; I've never had any companion at all! He's always been what Margaret called me the other day. She rubbed her head against my arm, and said, 'Mom, you're my best person! Dan's been my best person always.'"

"I feel differently when he's in the house, putting me about. Nothing seems to have happened until I've talked it over with Dan."

"My marriage was never like that," Mac said.

"Mac, just his getting home at night always has given me a—finished feeling—I don't know what to call it! My heart would settle down, like something climbing into a nest—there was nothing more, outside in the world, that belonged to me. It was all Dan."

"And he's the man that falls in love with an intriguing—"

"Oh, she wasn't intriguing! Just desperately loving, and perhaps not so not, as you're making me feel."

"Scrupulous," Mac supplied briefly. "Well, are people in love ever scrupulous? He was completely bewitched—didn't he want the first?"

"Casey, somehow it seems to me to have you defend him! Every man knows that he ought to stand by his wife and kids."

"Not if the wife steps back, and the other woman tells him a convincing story. I've not forgiven him. I'm not a door-mat, that a man can trample on. I've taken his children away from him, and made my own life complete without him. But even if I can't forgive, I can understand."

"It makes it nice for me," Mac said. "She roused herself, smiling, wiping her eyes."

"Poor you."

"You're everything in the world to me. I suppose I shall go on telling you so, and making you feel self-control, 'until we are old."

"No, no," she said, shocked, "you don't anger me at all; it's only—well, I'll tell you; it makes me feel a little embarrassed. Can't you understand that? To have a person you like immensely—well, just simply me—"

"Mac, what a mess I'm making of this! But you know what I mean. I mean that I do like you so terribly—that I love to talk to you, that you're my best friend, far and away, and mama's mad about you, and the children love you, and if you want to go on and make me feel I have changed my mind, for goodness' sake, do!" Casey said kindly.

"I'll get you yet," he said. "Not while Dan Wallace is alive!" She said it quietly, in a matter-of-fact tone, but it silenced him, and there was a pause.

"What do you think Dulce would play in his return?" Mac asked then. "Supposing him to be sick of his bargain?"

"I haven't thought," Casey said calmly, gathering up her mending and choosing in her own mind the words that should ask Mac to stay and dine with them.

And all the while Dan's brief, eloquent letter was against her heart, and that night it was under her pillow, with her hand holding it tight, even in her sleep.

It was a short letter; but 27 words in all. "Casey," it began. And the abrupt appeal, so like Dan, was as precious to her as anything that followed: "I am sorry if you are unhappy. I never thought how it all looked to you. I wish some day you would let me tell you, Dan."

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

MINER THE MOLE'S COUSIN.

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Who is too sure will find it meet. Of humble folk to suspect that eat. —Old Mother Nature.

Of course, Peter Rabbit was curious. He was sure that he had seen the miner the mole swimming in the shallow water at the upper end of the Smiling Pool. Then the swimmer had disappeared behind a tussock of grass. Redwing the Blackbird had flown over to look for him, but couldn't find him.

"You may be right, Peter, but I don't believe it," said Redwing. "You may have seen Miner the Mole swimming, but I'll not believe it until I see him myself. I have spent several summers here at the Smiling Pool and in all that time I have never seen Miner the Mole swimming."

"I guess I see him!" exclaimed Peter indignantly.

"Perhaps, Peter; perhaps," replied Redwing. "But I suspect that some time you think you knew him when you didn't see him."

"Didn't see him?" exclaimed Peter. "Certainly, I saw him. He was right over where you went to look for him. I don't believe you used your eyes very well."

It was Redwing's turn to become indignant. "Please understand, Peter Rabbit," said he, "that my eyes are quite as good as your eyes and perhaps a little better. Let me repeat, I don't believe you saw Miner the Mole."

"All right, Redwing, all right!" exclaimed Peter, beginning to stammer. "I believe it now. Who is that swimming out from behind that tussock? Tell me, Redwing, what is his name?"

Redwing looked. "That?" said he. "Oh, that is Miner's cousin. I've seen him here many times. His name is Mole."

Such a funny look as there was on Peter Rabbit's face. "What was that did you say?"

"I said," replied Redwing, "that that is Starstone the Mole, first cousin to Mole the Mole. Do you mean to tell me, Peter, that you don't know your own first cousin?"

Now it was very hard for Peter to admit that there was any one around the Smiling Pool whom he didn't know.

Will Be Repeated

A great performance of "The 18-Karat Boob" by the Pined Dramatic Club, of East Point, will be given at 8 o'clock tonight at the Russell High school, under auspices of the Baroque class of the First Baptist church of East Point. Proceeds will be used for support of a basketball team of the Baroque class, which is a contender in the American Association of the Sunday School league. The play was presented first by the dramatic club under sponsorship of the Lions Club.
